

Fighting Near Saigon Kills 101 Viet Cong

Mop Up Operations at Plei Me Continued by American Military Men

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — While U.S. troops fanned out around Plei Me in mop up operations, a toll of 101 Viet Cong dead was claimed today in fighting only 20 miles northwest of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman reported the heavy Communist casualties were suffered in an attack by an estimated two battalions of Viet Cong on a Vietnamese ranger battalion camped at Duc Lap.

Government casualties were termed moderate. American advisers with the rangers suffered light casualties, but all returned to duty after treatment, the spokesman said.

The Viet Cong hit the ranger camp at Duc Lap last June and again last month. The attack early today followed the same pattern — a barrage by mortars and small arms and then an assault on the camp.

The rangers fought back, and artillery and air assaults were made quickly on the attackers. The spokesman credited the repulse of the attack and the high Viet Cong casualties to coordination of ground and air fire power.

At Plei Me, airborne American cavalrymen landed and swept south to clear out the last Communist stronghold threatening the special forces camp.

Light mortar and recoilless rifle fire fell during the night near the camp which had been under siege for a week. But the troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division met no resistance as they pushed through the jungle.

The decision to send out the American troops apparently was made after a South Vietnamese column of infantry and armored vehicles which had relieved the post Monday was hurled back by heavy Communist fire when it began moving south of the camp.

Heavily Bombed

On one ridge the U.S. troops found an abandoned Viet Cong outpost overlooking the camp and the body of one North Vietnamese regular soldier. The area had been heavily bombed by U.S. planes during the siege.

Atop one hill the advancing Americans found one of the Communists' main observation posts. The enemy had pulled out so fast they left behind ammunition, equipment and clothing.

Until Tuesday afternoon the South Vietnamese had turned down offers by U.S. forces to join in the battle. At that point, the government troops were confident that they had chased the Communists away.

The camp was preparing to receive high government officials and accept congratulations for holding out when the Communists opened fire again. Assaults were directed against both the camp and the relief column, and light casualties were inflicted.

Report Division

There were unconfirmed reports that the equivalent of a full North Vietnamese division was in the area. But U.S. military sources said only one regiment — about 1,200 men — was believed to have engaged the government troops.

The 1st Cavalry moved through the jungle along easy paths. Nearly 600 air strikes had blasted away the undergrowth and stripped trees of branches and leaves.

U.S. officials in Washington had been baffled by the renewal of the Communist attack after the arrival of the 1,300-man relief force. One official speculated that the Reds were trying to "pull a psychological Dien Bien Phu" — a victory which Communist propaganda could liken to the disastrous French defeat in 1954.

The official said the loss of Plei Me would have embarrassed U.S. and South Vietnamese military leaders but would have had nothing like the military effect of the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu.

Elsewhere, three Viet Cong attacks were reported in Quang

36 Killed as British Plane Crashes in Fog

Accident Occurs After Two Attempts To Land Aircraft

LONDON (AP) — A British domestic airliner exploded in flames on its third attempt to land in shifting fog at London Airport early today, killing all 36 persons aboard.

"We could see a sheet of flame which seemed to stretch the length of the runway," said one airport employee. "We could see people among the flames but they were obviously dead."

The plane, a four-engine Vanguard turboprop designed to carry 139 passengers, was landing at 1:23 a.m. after a flight from Edinburgh, Scotland. Operated by British European Airways, it carried 30 passengers, one child, and a crew of 6.

The airline said it was believed all aboard were British.

Vatican Council Ends Voting on Religious Liberty

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today completed piecemeal voting on its religious liberty declaration, reportedly approving all parts of the historic document by big majorities.

The highest number of bishops opposing any one of the first six sections of the declaration was 228, a tenth of the prelates assembled in St. Peter's.

Council spokesmen announced the results of votes on these six sections and said five remaining ballots were taken but not counted before the day's meeting ended. Sources said, however, the pattern set in the first ballots was sure to have carried through in all the rest.

The document, now over its major hurdles, will be ready for proclamation as a decree of the Roman Catholic Church after a last over-all vote that will follow further slight revision of the declaration.

Revision was made necessary because many bishops expressed reservations while voting approval of certain sections of the document. However, this revision was expected to be minimal, allowing for completion of the document next month.

Some Hopes Raised

Wilson Meets With African Nationals

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson held his first meeting today with Rhodesia's African nationalists and heard their side of this country's independence crisis.

The meeting took place as a proposal by the white-ruled Rhodesian government to insure the political future of Africans raised some slight hopes of a solution of the crisis caused by Rhodesia's threat to declare independence from Britain.

Wilson met Joshua Nkomo, restricted leader of the banned Zimbabwe African Peoples Union. Nkomo was brought to the Rhodesian capital by plane from his detention camp at Gokudzingwa in a remote region near the Mozambique border.

Nkomo is believed to have the largest following in Rhodesia of any African nationalist.

Authorizes Flight

Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith, whose government restricted Nkomo, authorized the flight at Wilson's request.

About 2,000 Africans gathered around Government House as Nkomo arrived and many danced and shouted, "One man, one vote!"

A heavy police guard was posted on the grounds. Reporters saw police dogs bite several Africans after a black tried to

Lives of Three

Waukesha County,
Park Falls Deaths
Boost Toll to 821

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons were killed early today in a car-truck collision in Waukesha County. Their deaths, together with that of a schoolteacher who was killed in a separate mishap, raised Wisconsin's highway toll for the year to 821 compared with 886 on this date a year ago.

Killed in a collision about 1:30 a.m. today at the intersection of Highway 13 north of Park Falls where they taught.

A charge of homicide by intoxicated operator of a motor vehicle was filed Tuesday against Herman Weberg, 51, Superior, in the traffic death Sunday night of a pedestrian about 65 years old. Superior police said the victim remained unidentified Tuesday night.

Death of Teacher

Mrs. John Straetz, 42, Glendora, was hurled to her death Tuesday in the collision of a semi-trailer truck and the car in which she was riding. The accident happened as she and another teacher were returning home on a newly opened stretch of Highway 13 north of Park Falls where they taught.

A charge of homicide by intoxicated operator of a motor vehicle was filed Tuesday against Herman Weberg, 51, Superior, in the traffic death Sunday night of a pedestrian about 65 years old. Superior police said the victim remained unidentified Tuesday night.

Continue Bombing,
Iowa Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper cautioned today against any halt in U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam.

"When you are going forward, it's no time to stop," the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's senior Republican said in an interview.

Hickenlooper thus dissented from the committee chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who called Sunday for a lengthy cessation as a means of sounding out North Viet Nam on the possibility of negotiation.

Police Told to Look to Selves to Solve Problems

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Judicial inter-vention in police proceedings and public apathy to police problems are the fault of police agencies themselves, 300 law and the Wisconsin Chiefs of enforcement officials were told here Tuesday.

Speakers at the first annual attorney general's conference on call for a new outlook toward law enforcement repeatedly told police relationships with the agents of local, state and federal police, prosecutor, court and correctional systems that they should look to themselves for a solution to their problems devoted to the changing nature of society, crime and criminal law. They cannot sit back and blame of controversial court decisions that are arrived at through due process of law, they were warned.

The two-day conference, being held in cooperation with the Wisconsin District Attorney's Association, the state Sheriff's Association, the state Police Association, heard speakers representing local and state public of police activities, needs and policies must be accomplished, said Prof. Willard Hurst of the University of Wisconsin law school. In reviewing the growth toward police professionalism in the last half century, Hurst called for an effort for communication to avoid isolation caused by specialization.

He pointed to three elements in which bring the police into new conflicts with the public. The however, that additional change, automobile, he said, brings a large, formerly "respectable" element into "distasteful" conflict with the law, and the tensions of youth and race cause the alienation of other large segments of popular support.

Educational Effort

In answer to this new separation from the public a concentrated educational effort must be made on the part of police to provide for better popular understanding of law enforcement problems and policies, he said.

As a partial solution to this conflict, state Supreme Court Justice Nathan S. Heffernan suggested that local law enforcement agencies should sponsor citizen's advisory groups to counsel police agencies on community attitudes and to provide needed access to the public for a discussion of law enforcement views and problems. In suggesting the advisory councils, Heffernan cautioned, he was not advocating groups to oversee police.

But such a group would not be a return to the popular attitudes that once prevailed and to a personalization of law enforcement as all on the police, or they may exist in the past, in spite of problems of increased social size and complexity.

Heffernan also reiterated a plea voiced by Michael Torphy, Dane County district attorney, and Howard Bjorkland, Beloit police chief, for greater discretionary power in enforcement for officials on all levels of the police process.

Both also echoed the calls for greater communication as a solution to public apathy and opposition.

Heffernan and fellow Supreme

Justice Thomas E. Fairfendant's rights. Gergen said. Wednesday, October 27, 1965 The Post-Crescent A 10 child also reviewed the impact of recent United States Supreme Court decisions on local and state law enforcement in Wisconsin, and agreed that recent federal decisions, although meaningful on a state and local level, have had less an impact than in many other states due to long standing state statutes and judicial precedents governing the rights of the individual in Wisconsin courts.

But these decisions are of importance, Fairchild pointed out, for at least one "has led our court to request the legislature to provide for a public defender to represent indigent defendants in our court."

These individual constitutional rights must be protected, agreed Frank J. Remington, professor at the UW law school, even if it means that local police agencies must abide by existing procedural laws in the apprehension and prosecution of defendants, however lax police and prosecutors have been about this in the past.

Police Self-Control

If there is no clear cut police self-control in these matters, said Remington, "then the courts have but two alternatives. They may say that there should be no controls at all on the police, or they may provide judicial controls."

If defense attorneys are going to continually spade over this earth of constitutional rights then maybe it would be sensible for local law enforcement officials to get in line with the statutes in police matters," said Circuit Judge Henry for the Gergen of Dodge County.

The records of the police process and of the court must be kept in such a way as to show accurately and publicly at all times the status of the proceedings and the individual de-

dragon SOUP

Make it a Chinese-y HOW-LOO-WEEN for your little demons! Send 'em out Trickin' & Treating with an early supper that's quick to eat, fast to fix and guaranteed to fire the Spirits of everyone!

Lead off with a cauldron of DRAGON SOUP, served boiling and bubbling.

1 can of condensed Tomato Soup
1 can of La Choy Bean Sprouts, rinsed and drained
1 tablespoon La Choy Soy Sauce
1 teaspoon dried parsley flakes

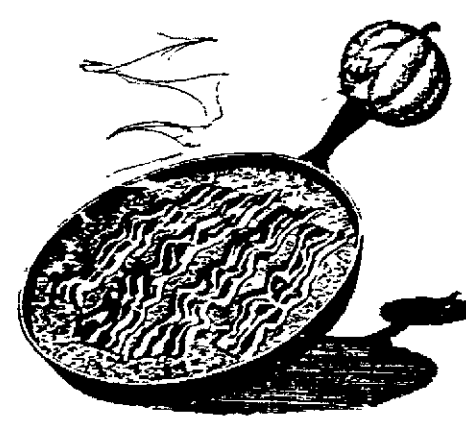

Prepare tomato soup, according to directions on can—using half water and half milk for added richness. When at a simmer, add the can of Bean Sprouts and heat through. Stir in soy sauce and add salt if necessary.

Garnish each steaming bowlful with parsley flakes and a few round crackers. Serves 4.

La Choy Sprouts are always tender and crisp! Grown from imported Mung beans in our own Far Eastern kitchen gardens.

spooky suey

Twelve minutes to fix, just a skillet to wash! Real-meat nourishment to delight any devil-chaser.

1 pound ground beef or ½ pound ground beef and ½ pound bulk sausage
1 tablespoon oil
1 medium onion, chopped

1 can La Choy Fried Rice
¾ cup water
2 tablespoons La Choy Sauce

Crumble meat in heavy skillet with oil and onions. Stir-fry until meat is nicely browned. Pour off oil. Add Fried Rice, mixing thoroughly with beef. Add water and soy sauce. Stir and cover. Cook over low heat for 5 minutes. Decorate each serving with pimento strips, criss-crossed—or strips of crisp bacon.

Accompany with SLIM-WITCH SALAD:

Rinse and drain 1 can La Choy Bean Sprouts. Add to slightly thickened orange or vegetable flavored gelatin. Chill.

National Guardsmen Looking for New Lands To Conquer in Training

Appleton Unit Needs More Space For Ordered Intensive Exercises

Appleton area National Guardsmen ordered to intensive drills in preparation for a possible activation to federal service, are looking for new lands to conquer.

The unit, the First Battalion, 127th Infantry headquarters and headquarters company, has asked help from state authorities in locating land near Appleton which the organization can use for rigorous field maneuvers.

The unit at the present time conducts field tactic training in Center Swamp, but the swamp is too small for the stepped-up training program which the National Guard unit will begin next week.

On Elite List

The company was named as one of 26 units to be put on an "elite" list to be merged with the Minnesota National Guard if the lack of funds and equipment to obtain the information we need to attack the problem," given high priority by the Department of Defense for Guard officials here will begin an intensive recruiting program to increase strength by almost 130 men. Training will be at company-level instead of platoon level tactics.

More Men, Machines

Col. Behe said this would mean more men and machines in the field. He said the area at Center Swamp would be too small for such drills.

State help will come in the form of maps and other information pertaining to state-owned lands which would be available to the units.

Drills will be lengthened from two hours to four hours and will be conducted about three times per month. Two drills can be

"The Greater Fox Cities area day program, and guidance and will be designated a regional vocational school district with out question and any area ready with a building program will be given financial as well as program consideration first," according to Clarence Greiber, director of the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

Greiber spoke at the 10th joint meeting of the representatives of the five Fox Cities vocational schools Tuesday evening at Kimberly High School.

None of the five Fox Cities schools fulfill all of these requirements now.

The new law provides that all areas within the created district will support the district financially. A tax rate of up to $2 per thousand of equalized value can be assessed on all property.

Greiber noted that one of the purposes of the new law is to provide equal opportunities to all state residents.

"At the present time, more than 50 per cent of the state's population lives in areas without such schools," he said. "And these people have been paying taxes which support the existing vocational schools since about 1911," he added.

State May Act

If all the state is not in districts by 1970, new legislation may be enacted to have a state agency set up boundaries, he said.

Viet Nam Dolls Found Free of Explosives

Negative Report At Truax Field on Appleton Gifts

A matched set of small dolls sent to an Appleton woman by her brother in Viet Nam, have been "checked out negative," officials at Truax Air Base, Madison, said this morning.

The dolls, hand-made in Thailand and shipped to the home of Mrs. Carl Ulmen, 205 S. Walters Ave., about two weeks ago, were taken to Madison by a Wisconsin state traffic patrol man Tuesday morning to be checked for explosives by demilitation experts.

The dolls were turned over to the local army recruiting office after Mrs. Ulmen told police she had received them from her son, Staff Sgt. Floyd Ulmen, who is stationed at an outpost in Viet Nam. She, Dairies and the Appleton Wire, informed police after she read works.

Last week about similar dolls having been found rigged with timed explosives by the Communists in Viet Nam.

Sgt. Bobby Adams of the emergency ordinance disposal unit at Truax, who said that tests made Tuesday proved the dolls were free of explosives, explained the dolls probably will be returned soon to Mrs. Ulmen. The dolls are to be a Christmas present for the soldier's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Westgor, 137 1/2 S. Walter Ave.

Smoke Forces Quick Exit

Mother, Children Escape Injury At Appleton Home

An Appleton mother and her two small children escaped uninjured from their smoke-filled home shortly before 9:30 a.m. today.

Mrs. James Moore, 415 E. Coolidge Ave., awoke to find the home filled with smoke from a fire that started in the kitchen. She quickly gathered her two children, Risa, 1, and Aug. 1, and a series of negotiations followed. Approximately 350 employees are represented by the two unions. A pension plan, wages, fringe benefits and some working conditions are in controversy.

Appleton firemen, who had the fire under control in about five minutes, said the blaze started near the kitchen stove. Firemen remained at the scene about 45 minutes.

Extensive damage was reported to the kitchen and there was smoke damage to other parts of the house.

Two other children in the Moore family were at school. Mrs. Moore said the loss is covered by insurance.

2 Combined Locks Paper Co. Union Contracts Expired

COMBINED LOCKS — Termination of contract notice has been served on Combined Locks Paper Co. by United Papermakers and Paperworkers Local 264 and International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers Local 144, effective 6 p.m. Sunday.

Notice of contract termination would permit unions to call for a strike after 6 p.m. Sunday. No negotiation progress were reported after a Monday meeting, but another meeting between representatives of the company and a bargaining committee for the locals has been set for 11 p.m. Saturday.

Phillip Simon, federal mediator from Green Bay, was at Monday's session and will be present Saturday.

The present contract expired Monday, and a series of negotiations followed. Approximately 350 employees are represented by the two unions. A pension plan, wages, fringe benefits and some working conditions are in controversy.

Prange's Budget Center Reports Break-in

Nothing was reported missing today after entry was made by forcing a rear door at Prange's Budget Center, 2700 W. College Ave.

Sheriff's investigators said several tires were on the floor in the building, and theorized that whoever broke into the building was scared off. The incident was reported to the department Tuesday.

Phone Company Promotes Two Men

W. C. Stehr Gets Milwaukee Post; J. R. Christoph Is Vice President

Two men who have served in Wisconsin Telephone Company assignments here were named Tuesday to management posts at the firm's general headquarters in Milwaukee.

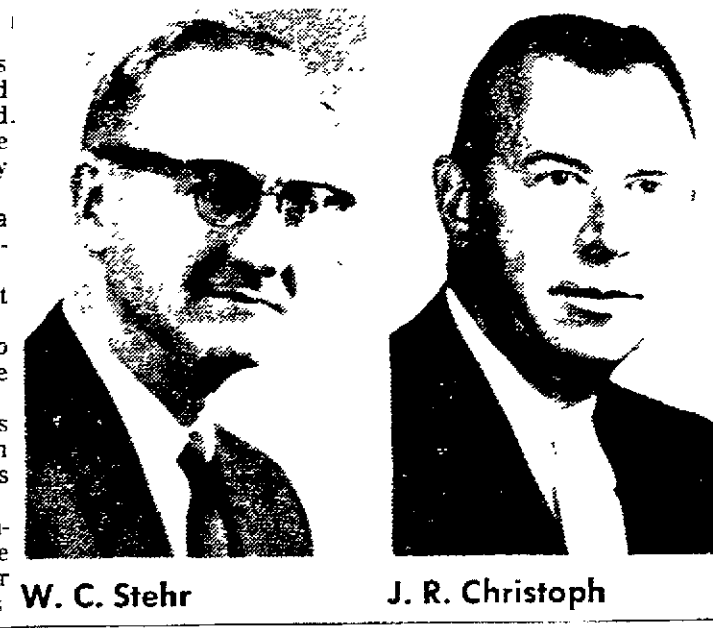

Wesley C. Stehr, the company's northern division manager with headquarters in Appleton, was named general commercial manager. He succeeds John R. Christoph, who was elected vice president and controller by the firm's board of directors.

Christoph held company positions in the Appleton headquarters from 1955 through 1959.

Both changes are effective Nov. 1.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Stehr joined the telephone company as a commercial representative at Madison in 1946. He was promoted to the position of a commercial unit manager at Milwaukee in 1949, and later named commercial supervisor. In 1954, he returned to Madison as district commercial manager. He was transferred in 1959 to the company's plant department in Milwaukee as division plant personnel supervisor. In 1960, he

Fox Cities Couple Granted Divorce in Winnebago Court

OSHKOSH—Winnebago County Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane this week granted a divorce to Michael Lee Peterson, 22, 145 Tyler St., Neenah, and Patricia Ann Peterson, 19, 1515 S. Memorial Dr., Appleton.

The couple was married Dec. 17, 1964 in Winnebago County and the final separation was granted Oct. 25. There were no children and a property settlement was granted.

Judge Cane also dismissed a charge against Peterson of intentionally causing damage to McDermott, 222 E. Spring St. Mrs. Peterson's car. The complaint charged Peterson with the pushing the car into a quarry cushion, apparently was started April 19 in the Town of Vinland by sparks from a cigarette.

Appleton Council Concerned Over Lack, Relocation of Street Lights

Street lights—the lack of or relocation of them—are creating some concern for Appleton aldermen.

It all came to light Monday night when the city council was asked by its public safety committee to approve a five-year plan for upgrading the street lighting system.

An estimated $17,000 has been included in next year's budget to cover the first phase of the project to be carried out by the changed or relocated in his ward.

While aldermen were generally agreed the city could be better where lights are badly needed is in the area of the new Einstein Junior High School.

Ald. Arthur Mueller (19th), public safety committee chairman, assured Pointer the No. 1 project on the list was installation of lighting fixtures in the Einstein school region.

In other action, the council: —Gave the Appleton Optimist Club permission to hold a peanut sale on city streets Friday.

—Concurred in the request of the Downtown Retail Association to install Christmas decorations on nine blocks in the downtown business district.

—Received word from the State Highway Department that a study showed traffic signals are not warranted at the E. Wisconsin Avenue-Owassa Street intersection at this time.

Red Feather Pledge Cards Sent in Mail

Appleton Residents Receive Letters Due To Lack of Workers

About 400 Appleton residents are getting Red Feather pledge cards and brochures in the mail today and tomorrow because, according to Mrs. E. R. Shannon, chairman of residential solicitation, "it is impossible for me to visit each one of them personally."

The letters are going only to persons who have contributed in the past two years.

In part, the letters read: "Despite months of work by my dedicated volunteers, it has been impossible to recruit enough block workers to distribute the pledge cards in many areas of the city."

Knowing of your previously expressed desire to serve your community, and to support the work of these agencies, we urge your participation by filling out the enclosed pledge card and returning it to your Red Feather office."

The letter ends with the appeal, "One gift works many wonders. It can be your gift."

There are 12 participating agencies in the United Red Feather campaign this year.

A campaign report will be given Thursday, according to G. E. Hoffman, general campaign chairman.

"We will be having report days until every dime of the $208,655 United Red Feather Campaign goal has been reached," he said.

Plan Parties For Halloween

Kaukauna Students To Attend Movie Session, Dance

KAUKAUNA — All school age children are invited to participate in Halloween parties Sunday under the direction of the recreation department. James Gertz, recreation director has announced.

Parties for grade school youngsters, including movies, treats and prizes, will get underway at 6:30 p.m. with north side children assembling at the Park School gym and south side youngsters at the Vaudeville Theater. Youngsters will be asked to sign pledge cards to register for the "witch wagon" game.

Pledge cards will be picked at random and homes of youngsters will be called about one-half hour after the conclusion of the program. If the child is home, he becomes eligible for major prizes donated by Modern Woodmen of America, an insurance firm cooperating with the recreation department.

The firm also furnishes the recreation department with souvenirs for all children. Al Fraser, local representative for Modern Woodmen of America, indicated his firm is sponsoring similar costume parties in hundreds of communities throughout the country.

A costume party dance for high school students, with prizes and refreshments, will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. in the old school gym, music to be furnished by a local combo. Last year more than 1,200 city youngsters participated in the recreation parties.

Pleads Guilty Of Gambling

Kaukauna Tavern Operator Fined On Two Counts

One of three Outagamie County tavern operators charged last month with violating state gambling laws changed his plea to no contest Tuesday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

He is Leo F. Kappell, 47, 220 E. 15th St., Kaukauna, charged by agents of the state beverage tax division of the Wisconsin State Department of Taxation with permitting a gambling device, a Magic Mirror Horoscope, to be set up for gambling purposes at his bar, and with conducting a lottery, a 100-square football pool card.

Kappell, operator of Kappell's Bar in Kaukauna, pleaded innocent of the charge when he appeared Sept. 17 in County Court. He was fined $50 and costs on each count on his change of plea Tuesday.

Still awaiting trial on similar gambling charges are Anthony Zemisek, 935 Grignon St., Kaukauna, operator of Tony's Bar, and Louis G. Grishaber, 52, 309 N. Rankin St., Appleton, operator of the Plateau Bar.

Both tavern operators were charged following investigation by state agents. Grishaber's trial is set for Nov. 22 while Zemisek will appear Jan. 6.

Viet Nam Dolls Will Be Inspected

NEENAH — A 17-year-old girl took two Vietnamese dolls, a gift from her brother stationed with the Army in Viet Nam, to the police station to have them inspected for possible booby-traps Tuesday night.

Cindy Whitpan, 144 Tyler St., took the dolls to the station after reading of a similar situation in Tuesday's Post-Crescent.

Miss Whitpan received the dolls approximately a month ago from her brother, Terry, stationed with the army in Viet Nam, according to her mother, Mrs. P. O. Whitpan.

Mrs. Whitpan said Cindy decided to take the dolls to the police station after one of her younger sisters told her about the incident in Appleton.

The dolls will be inspected, and if found safe returned, police said.

Cost of Mental Patient Care Is Questioned

OSHKOSH — Asylum or hospital — custodial or active treatment — erupted before the Winnebago County Board Tuesday and will return for Board discussion next Monday afternoon.

Should Winnebago County continue active treatment of its public safety committee chairman, assured Pointer the No. 1 project on the list was installation of lighting fixtures in the Einstein school region.

In other action, the council: —Gave the Appleton Optimist Club permission to hold a peanut sale on city streets Friday.

—Concurred in the request of the Downtown Retail Association to install Christmas decorations on nine blocks in the downtown business district.

—Received word from the State Highway Department that a study showed traffic signals are not warranted at the E. Wisconsin Avenue-Owassa Street intersection at this time.

Annexation Will Call for More Police

MEENASHA — Police Chief Lester Clark told the finance committee Tuesday the recent 183-acre annexation, if proven valid in the courts, will require the addition of two men and one squad car to the police department.

In a hearing on the 1966 budget, the chief said the department is currently patrolling the area with existing men and cars on a temporary basis. The new car would cost $3,061 on a yearly basis, and the starting salary for patrolmen on the 1965 salary schedule is $5,282.

The aldermen present at the hearing indicated their willingness to allow the purchase of the extra squad car and postponed decisions on hiring the additional men until the annexation issue is settled in the courts.

The chief also has asked for the addition of a patrolman Jan. 1. He explained as the force gets more seniority, the men get longer vacations. This necessitates the hiring of another man "to fill in," the chief said.

Appleton Man Injured While Repairing Tire

Ronald Vaughn, 30, 3407 Justin St., remained in Appleton Memorial Hospital today after being injured while fixing a tire, about noon Tuesday at Matthews Tire Center, 2930 W. College Ave.

Vaughn, who works part time at the firm, reportedly was putting air into a tire which he had just mounted on a rim. The tire and rim suddenly popped off the mounting device, striking Vaughn in the head and face, according to a spokesman at the firm.

Vaughn was taken to the hospital in Lindy's Ambulance. He received a cut over the left eye and is being examined for possible chest injuries.

Deny Attempt To Violate Law

Head of Personnel Unit Claims Council Discussion Expanded

The chairman of the city's personnel committee said Tuesday afternoon that "no attempt was made to subvert the anti-secrecy law" when the city council held an executive session the night before.

Max Hensel, the committee's citizen member, said originally the closed door meeting had been called to discuss the city's labor negotiations but the subject matter was expanded.

State law says the specific subject matter has to be announced whenever a municipal governing body calls for an executive session.

When the council met Monday night, Ald. John MacDonald (7th), a member of the personnel committee, specified it was for discussing labor negotiations.

However, it was learned that during the session, which lasted until 11:30 p.m., salaries of elected officials were also discussed toward the end of the session. But no mention was made of salaries when the request was made for the closed meeting.

Hensel said the committee and council had no intentions of active violating the anti-secrecy law taking but as discussion continued it was noted that salaries of elective officials also appeared on his agenda.

Twin Cities Disagrees About County Airport

OSHKOSH — Support for expansion of the Winnebago County Airport was voiced at the county board's budget hearing this morning by representatives of Oshkosh industrial and business interests and the Oshkosh common council.

It also ran into some opposition from Twin City supervisors. Speaking to the county board were Ted L. Witter Jr., Deltex Inc. vice president, on behalf of his firm and for Associated Industries of Oshkosh, Councilman William Manske and Tom Drummond, Miles Kimball Co., executive, on behalf of his firm and as a director of the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce and member citizen's airport committee.

Witter urged appropriating the $205,000 being requested in the 1966 budget and bonding for the approximate $1 million balance which may be needed as the county's share of the expansion project.

Thurs.-Fri.-Sat. Is E.O.M. at Treasure Island

E.O.M. is short for End of Month. The time of month when Treasure Island cleans out stocks in broken assortments. And you get a rich bounty of buying opportunities. You might have to settle for second color choice in your favorite dress. But, oh, how you save. There's extra value for everyone. A tenth of a mile of home needs, car needs, leisure wants, clothing. And shopping T.I. is fun. E.O.M. time, anytime. Look for E.O.M. sign toppers. They point the way to unusual buys. Expect all the T.I. extras. Plenty of free parking outside the door. Plenty of hours for shopping. Pay for what you buy with cash or Treasure Cheks, the simpler credit.

Why not make a day of it. Bring the kids. Stop for a snack at the Snack Bar where family prices prevail. Do your marketing. Fill your day with "more than you bargained for".

Postpone Billing Until '66 to Save Tax Money

BY SYLVIA PORTER

How do you switch your income and expenses between 1965 and 1966? The vast majority of us, who are "cash basis" taxpayers, generally owe tax on income in the year in which we are paid. For instance, if you do a job for which you are paid in 1965, you report that income on your total profit represented by the 1965 installment payments. Part of Total Specifically, if you take only 5 per cent of the total price in 1965, you include only 5 per cent of your total profit in your 1965 tax return. You also can control your income by shifting deductible expenses between 1965 and 1966, because you raise the income of the year from which you switch the expense and lower the income of the year to which you switch it. For "cash basis" taxpayers, the expense generally is deductible in the year of payment.

Thus, if your year-end tax strategy calls for cutting down on 1965 income and increasing 1966 income, make sure you pay all deductible expenses for which you are billed in 1965. In addition, you might spend money for certain deductible purposes in 1965 which you previously had intended to put off prepay in 1965 interest and state and local taxes for 1966, if possible. Your prepayment of 1966 interest in 1965 in order to deduct this on your 1965 return depends on whether your prepayment in 1965 state and local taxes in 1965 depends on whether your taxing authorities will accept such prepayments.

Allow for Prepayment Caution: The Treasury will allow 1965 deductions for 1965 prepayments of 1966 interest and taxes, but generally not for any other types of prepaid 1966 expenses (such as prepayment in 1965 for a dental or medical expense to be incurred in 1966.)

If you are a business or professional man and are planning to buy equipment or machinery in the near future, try to buy and put the equipment or machinery into use by the end of 1965 — instead of delaying until 1966. By doing this in 1965, you will be able to cut your 1965 tax bills with important tax benefits, but if you delay your purchase until January or later, you will hold off your tax benefits for a full year.

The two breaks you get when buying equipment and machinery are the investment credit and the 20 per cent first year depreciation. The investment credit can be as high as 7 per cent of your purchase price if the asset has a useful life of eight years or more. First-year depreciation is a depreciation deduction equal to 20 per cent of the price (up to $10,000 of purchases within a year, or $20,000 in a married persons joint return) if the asset has a useful life of six years or more. Both of these tax breaks are generally available no matter how late in 1965 you buy and put the property into use.

For instance, say you're a doctor and you buy and put into use in the final week of 1965 a $3,000 piece of medical equipment with a useful life of eight years. In addition to regular depreciation, you will get a 7 per cent investment credit, or $210, by which you cut your 1965 tax, plus a $600 first-year depreciation deduction which will reduce your 1965 taxable income. If you delay your purchase until January, you'll put off both tax breaks until you file your 1966 return in 1967.

Next: Parents and estimated tax.

(Copyright, 1965)

your 1965 return. If you don't get paid for the work until 1966, this income is taxed in your 1966, not your 1965, return — except that you still would be taxed in 1965 if you were entitled to payment in 1965 but asked your employer not to pay you until 1966.

So one way to shift income from 1965 to 1966 is to postpone year-end jobs, if possible, until the start of 1966. Another way is to hold off billing for year-end work until it is so late your client or customer can't pay until 1966.

If you sell property in the remaining weeks of 1965 at a profit, try to qualify the sale for installment reporting by not taking more than 30 per cent of the sales price in 1965. Then you will have to include in your 1965 income only that proportion of

Mead Leader Cites Growing Paper Demand

Depleting Forests In Europe Increase American Prices

DAYTON, Ohio — Strong world and domestic demand for paper and paper products has brought about "an industry-wide change in outlook with respect to supply and demand factors governing the market," Howard S. Whitaker, chairman of the board of The Mead Corporation, told Mead share owners.

Whitaker, reporting a 14 per cent gain in net earnings per share and an 8 per cent rise in sales during Mead's third quarter, noted that Scandinavian forests are reaching the extent of their ability to meet growing demand for pulp and paper in European markets.

"This results in greater demands on the forests of North America, which must also be able to supply rising domestic consumption throughout the decades ahead," Whitaker said. "The combination of world and domestic demand has led to firmer prices in the industry."

Strong Period Whitaker called the third quarter of 1965 "one of the strongest periods of demand Mead has ever experienced." Sales for the quarter, ended Sept. 26, were a record $135,791,611, compared with $125,982,253 for the same quarter of 1964.

Mead's third quarter net earnings came to $4,798,448 — equal, after payment of preferred dividends, to 80 cents per common share. This compared to a net of $4,145,766 or 70 cents per common share in the third quarter of 1964.

Gilbert Paper Co., Menasha, is a division of the Mead Corp.

Nekoosa-Edwards Reports Big Increase In 9-Month Earnings

Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co. has reported nine month earnings of $3.5 million, or $1.79 per share, compared with $2.6 million or $1.30 per share for the same period last year. Sales for the nine months ended Sept. 1 were $51.7 million, up 7.7 per cent over the year earlier figure of $48 million.

The Port Edwards, Wis., manufacturer attributed the improved sales and earnings to firm demand for the company's business communication papers. Sam Casey, president, said a portion of the earnings gain stemmed from Nekoosa's recent change in computing depreciation. Since 1954, Casey said, Nekoosa has used accelerated depreciation resulting in a greater charge against income and lower earnings than would have been reported to shareholders had straight-line depreciation been used. Of the $1.79 per share stated earnings, 27 cents is attributable to this change. Without it, share earnings would have been $1.52 compared with $1.30 for the same period last year.

Nekoosa has earmarked some $21 million in capital expenditures during 1965-66, chiefly for expansion of its pulp and papermaking facilities.

Berg and Henn, Inc., of Appleton, has been awarded a contract to raze the old Carmen Hotel in Sturgeon Bay. The hotel is being demolished to make way for a new $400,000 motor hotel.

An auction of all property and equipment in the old hotel was conducted Saturday. Two other Appleton firms, Long, Wiekert and Karel, and the Ernst W. Wiekert and Co., helped liquidate, dispose and sell the property.

Net sales were $34,622,000 compared with $36,916,000 for the same period in 1964. Net income was $3,319,000, compared with $2,332,000 during the last year's first nine months. Net income per share was up from last year's $2.19 to this year's $3.19.

Giddings and Lewis Reports 72.3 Per Cent Increase in Earnings

FOND DU LAC — Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co. reported gains in both sales and earnings for the nine-month period ending Sept. 30. The firm has a division in Kaukauna.

Sales were $23,341,787, an increase of 12.6 per cent over $20,727,656 of the comparable span a year earlier. Net income amounted to $1,137,934, up 72.3 per cent from $660,354.

On the basis of 499,971 common shares outstanding, earnings per share were $2.22, compared with $1.35 for the first three quarters of 1964. In the 1964 fiscal year, Giddings and Lewis earned $1,048,223, or $2.14 per share, on sales of $29,933,880.

The unaudited results through September of this year were reported in a registration statement filed by the company Monday with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The statement concerned $4 million in convertible subordinated debentures to be offered to the public at working capital.

Kimberly-Clark Announces Hike In Paper Prices

Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah, has announced it is raising paper prices 2½ per cent to 3 per cent, or about $10 per ton, on "a variety of coated grades for commercial printing," effective on shipments of Nov. 8.

The increased prices were revealed in an article in "The Wall Street Journal."

Kimberly-Clark's move follows similar recent price increases by Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co. and P. H. Glatfelter Co.

A Kimberly-Clark spokesman said the increase "will effect only spot business from Nov. 8 to Jan. 1. Most of our contracts for shipments for the rest of 1965 were entered into before the increase."

Fair Housing Bill Squeaks Into Senate

Discrimination Measure Moved To Floor in Madison by One Vote

MADISON (AP) — The fair housing bill has won a narrow one-vote passage recommendation from a Senate committee despite the opposition of its chairman, setting the stage for a floor showdown on the controversial measure late this week.

The bill would outlaw discrimination in sales or rentals involving mainly apartment buildings and rooming houses of five units or more. It is at the top of the list of major issues to be resolved in the Senate before the fall session ends, set tentatively for Friday.

The two minority Democrats on the Senate Public Welfare Committee were joined by one

Youths Stage Riot at Dance In Phoenix

By BOB EGER
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — About 200 shouting, rock-throwing Negro and Spanish-American youths rioted near downtown Phoenix late Tuesday night. Police restored control two hours later.

A dozen auto windshields and several store windows were smashed. Two persons, including a policeman, were hit by rocks that shattered windshields of moving cars.

Both of those hit are white, but police said there were no apparent racial overtones to the rioting.

The rock throwing started outside a dance at a Negro neighborhood park southeast of downtown Phoenix. An officer said two Negro youths were fighting when police arrived, then without apparent explanation, others started throwing rocks at passing cars.

Postwar Baby Boom Filling Draft Calls

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The deputy director of the Selective Service said today that men over 26 have little to fear from the draft at this time — a bumper crop of postwar babies is filling the bill to a great extent.

“Under present circumstances, I don’t anticipate that we’ll be getting into men over 26,” Col. Daniel O. Omer said in an interview. “Right now about 150,000 to 160,000 youths a month are coming into their 19th birthday, and this year about 2 million men will reach the age of 18.”

Under present law, youths under 19 cannot be drafted. But Omer estimated that about 30 per cent, or 600,000, of the 2 million 18-year-olds will be eligible for induction next year. About 40 per cent will be excused because of school, he said.

Many Enlist

As for the 19-year-olds, Omer said that a large number of them will enlist.

“Always when draft calls are high, enlistments are up,” he said. “Right now enlistments are good.”

“Last month we had calls for 27,000 men, and 33,000 men enlisted after they were examined and found acceptable.”

Because of the great number of volunteers, he said, “we missed our call by a few men — about 300.”

“So we sort of feel that we were responsible for getting many men into the service who probably would not have enlisted if they hadn’t known the call was large and they were acceptable.”

Disarm Hijacker

Pilot Meets Peril at Hand Of Would Be Cuban Pilot

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — pistol look like a 45-caliber automatic.

High above the Florida Keys Capt. K.I. Carlile faced a decision aboard National Airlines Flight 209 from Miami to Key West.

He could obey the desperate commands of an armed Cuban exile and fly the plane to Havana, or he could gamble and attempt to overpower him.

Carlile decided to gamble, and with the help of his crew disarmed the would-be hijacker Tuesday. The plane landed at Key West at 1:09 p.m. only nine minutes late.

The exile, Luis Medina Perez, 20, who said he wanted to see his family in Cuba, was wounded and taken prisoner in the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. He was one of 60 prisoners returned to the United States April 14, 1962.

Modified Rendezvous Set for Next Astronauts

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The next slip into the atmosphere and U.S. manned Gemini flight will include a modified space rendezvous, called station keeping.

Details of Gemini 7's flight plan came to light as engineers and scientists sought causes for the failure of an Agena rocket, which canceled the first actual attempt to rendezvous and dock two satellites in space Monday.

Station keeping is similar to airplanes flying in formation. Air Force Lt. Col. Frank Borman and Navy Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr., the Gemini 7 astronauts, will try to keep within 100 to 300 feet of their Titan 2 second-stage booster for two and one-half orbits.

The United States attempted rendezvous exercises on the last three Gemini missions. All failed.

Cancel Experimentation

Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, the Gemini 4 astronauts, tried to "fly in formation" with their booster but could not keep up with it. They had to cancel the experiment when fuel ran low.

While Borman and Lovell are flying along with their booster, they will take pictures and make radiation readings of the burned-out rocket shell.

After 3 hours and 56 minutes of station keeping, astronaut fire his 9 and 10 aft rocket thrusters for 54 seconds to climb into a safe orbit for the 331-hour and 18-minute, 309-orbit trip.

This maneuver will take place over Australia. The Titan 2

Guilty Plea

Perez pleaded guilty Tuesday to attempted piracy of an airplane — a federal offense which could carry the death penalty — and was held in default of $25,000 bond.

The prop-jet Electra, with a crew of 5 and 27 passengers including Medina, was 20 minutes out of Miami when the control tower at Miami's International Airport got its first word of the drama.

"Have a man on airplane with gun holding it on stewardess," radioed the copilot, D.S. McDaniels, 29.

"He wants to go to Havana. Captain is talking to him on phone now. This is copilot I'm flying airplane. Will keep you informed."

Capt. Carlile, 46, filled in the details after the plane landed at Key West.

"Be With Family"

"Take this plane to Havana because I want to be with my family," he quoted the stocky, dark-haired passenger as saying.

"He said he was a rational person," said Carlile, "but if we refused to take him to Havana, he would blow up the aircraft."

The FBI said Medina was armed with a BB target pistol which he had concealed in a paper bag so that only the butt protruded.

FBI agent Ralph Jensen of Key West said this made the

Inter-American Peace Force Thought to be Stemming Violence

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Members of the Dominican Republic's shaky provisional government appeared today to be nearing a showdown over whether to fire the top leaders of the armed forces.

The danger of more large-scale violence was believed to be stemming from the presence of the Inter-American Peace Force patrolling the capital.

Pentagon Approves Drive; Reaction to Anti-Viet Nam Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of college students are giving blood to the armed forces with Pentagon approval as a gesture of support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The junior class at Washington State University collected 750 pints in three days. Hundreds more were turned away for health reasons.

A "bleed-in" is being organized by the Denver Center of Colorado University.

"We wanted to show that not all college students rush around saying 'no' to everything," said sophomore Bill Van Pelt of Denver, drive organizer.

Pentagon approval came as it was revealed that the May Second Movement prepared to raise funds to send medical supplies to the Communist Viet Cong.

Red Cross "Go-Ahead"

Steve Cherkoss of Berkeley, Calif., a West Coast leader of the movement, who called the United States the "aggressor" in Viet Nam, said his group had "the go-ahead" from the International Red Cross to send the supplies. He did not elaborate on "the go-ahead."

Students at more than a dozen American universities and colleges across the nation are involved in blood drives. The drives came into being after the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

The Defense Department said Tuesday it has asked the American Red Cross to collect the blood donations. A defense spokesman said that while the blood is not needed in Viet Nam, it will be used for military requirements within the United States.

He said the first collections will be made early next month at the University of Illinois, where 2,000 volunteer donors have signed up.

"We've had several inquiries already from groups on other campuses who want to provide donations," said Philip Hintersberger, 22, of Alton, Ill., president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at Illinois. Sponsors of calcium astronauts lose during the drive.

Harrison said it will take imagination and creativity to produce students with full skills through vocational instruction.

Katherine Gill, chief of home economics, State Board of Adult and Vocational Education, said education for employment is being changed by the roll of women.

"You can now expect many homemakers to work outside the home for 25 years or more," she said "Every community has women employed outside the home using home economics training

"All vocational education is challenged to produce training of high quality," she said "Some training programs employed by high schools outside Wisconsin last year were food service, child care aid, old age care, food preparation, waitress, day care center work, seamstress and hostessing"

Dependent Businesses Dale Aebischer, agriculture chief, State Board of Adult and Vocational Education, said only 25 per cent of persons engaged in agriculture are farmers, but all farmers are engaged in agriculture.

Farming supports 220,000 operators and families in Wisconsin and countless dependent businesses, he said

"Vocational agriculture prepares students for farming and other related fields. Business education and trades and industry training provides well-rounded competency," Aebischer said

Donald Schwarz, assistant resident instructor in agriculture, said "The greatest opportunity are for those rural youths with college training

"The demand for students in agriculture-related fields is about four times as great as the supply of students," Schwarz said

Arthur Schnell To End 16 Years As Commissioner

CHILTON — Fred E. Longrie, who has served 15 years as highway office supervisor, was elected Tuesday by Calumet County supervisors to succeed Arthur Schnell as county highway commissioner.

Schnell, who had served as commissioner for 16 years, in September announced his intention not to seek re-election

Longrie started with the highway department in 1946, working first as a truck driver and then as a motor grade operator before assuming the office position in October, 1950

Schnell's term expires Jan. 1, 1966 when Longrie will assume the duties.

Supreme Court ruling action of the joint committee to consolidate was not legal and this is why stipulations were signed asking that the committee's order be declared void," Ponath said.

He added that since the committee violated the section of the state statute contained in the Supreme Court ruling, the record is clear and no amount of further testimony could change it

Ponath added that a judge can refuse to accept such a stipulation if he feels the rights of a party have been violated

The question in this case, he said, was whether the joint county school committee had jurisdiction at the time it issued the attachment orders

Ponath said he was unaware Waupaca officials had not been informed of the Circuit Court judgment

He explained he was not sure if the Outagamie County School Committee had been notified of the ruling, but said he was told the committee was in agreement with the stipulation before it was signed

"If the parties involved were not informed of the Circuit Court ruling in June 1964, I do not know the reason," Ponath said He said it was not mandatory to issue a notice of judgment in such a case.

Soil Survey Grant Awarded To Plans Group

Two Federal Agencies to Pay 83 Pct. of Cost

A $12,500 Housing and Home Finance Agency planning grant for a soil survey has been given to the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, according to Eugene Franchett, commission director

The remaining 50 per cent cost of the $25,000 project will be paid by the Soil Conservation Service of the federal Department of Agriculture and the commission The commission's share of the cost is approximately $4,300 or 17 per cent of the total, Franchett said.

Preliminary investigation has been underway since July 1 Purpose of the survey is to provide the commission with complete soil mapping and analysis of soils in the region to serve as a guide in development of the region

When completed, the survey will furnish information as to what the best uses are for the soil, such as recreation, structures, sewage systems, septic tanks, Franchett said

The project had been approved earlier, but had been delayed because of lack of funds.

Find the Set of Twins and Win Road Building Machines

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! Can you find the pair of twins in the picture? Two of the children look exactly alike. If you can find them, draw a circle around them, color them or otherwise show which pair you believe they are, then send the picture to me as your entry in today's contest.

20-by-20-by-eight-inch box that weighs 16 pounds.

The five Tonka Toys construction outfits will be awarded as national grand prizes, one to each boy or girl whose contest entry proves to be one of the five nearest and most original correct ones from all the cities where this column is published.

When you have marked the twins in the picture above, clip it out, paste it on a sheet of paper or a postal card, print your name, age and address beneath it, then decorate it in any neat, original way, using paints, crayons, cutouts or other means. Address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of the prize winners will be published here and their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

5 Faculty Members in Sunday Harper Concert

Lawrence Conservatory Teachers to Present Works of Mendelssohn, Faure

Five members of the conservatory faculty, Lawrence University, will be heard in a program of chamber music by Mendelssohn and Faure at 4 p.m. Sunday in Harper Hall at the Music-Drama Center.

Mrs. Heiberg

Performers are Lucy Baehner Heiberg, lecturer in music, violin; Frances Clarke Rehl, lecturer in music, violoncello; Marjory Irvin, associate professor of music, piano; Kenneth Byler, associate professor of music, violin, and Theodore Rehl, assistant professor of music, piano.

Mrs. Rehl

Their program consists of the Trio No. 1 in D minor, Opus 49, by Mendelssohn, to be played by Mrs. Heiberg, Mrs. Rehl and Miss Irvin; the Quartet No. 1 in C minor Opus 15, by Faure, with Mrs. Heiberg, Mr. Byler, and Mr. and Mrs. Rehl as performers.

Illustrious History
The Mendelssohn trio has had an illustrious history since its publication in Frankfurt in 1840. The composer engaged in a long revision of the score almost from the time of its publication and as in the case of several of his works, ultimately settled upon a second version as more satisfactory than the original. Mendelssohn himself played the piano in the first performance, with his friend, the virtuoso Ferdinand David, on violin. Robert Schumann, another close friend, wrote an ecstatic and somewhat exaggerated review in which he called the work the greatest in its form since the trios of Beethoven (an almost ludicrous thought since Schumann himself had already written a trio which stands comparison with almost any ever conceived!).

In any case, the trio is one of profound lyricism and keenly idiomatic expression for each of the instruments. Like most of Mendelssohn's chamber works, it gains considerable strength from the use of the piano. Faure's quartet dates from 1879. It was the first of two in which the composer incorporated the piano. Its four movements are written in the unmistakably gallic style which characterizes Faure's music.

Rehl

Chief among its attributes are a gracious melodic style, subtly active harmonic structures and an element of delicate humor.

Type Casting Overcome on Back to Back

BY TV SCOUT
8-9 — Channels 4-5—"Back to Back" on Bob Hope Presents is an admirable drama if you can forgive its producers for resorting to some obvious type casting. Shelley Winters again plays a dumpy, lonely waitress who wants to be loved by a man who gets her into an awful predicament Jack Hawkins, a married Englishman on the lam

8:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7-12—Lost in Space has an adventure which is slightly reminiscent of "Alice in Wonderland." Penny in her strange new world is fascinated by her echo in a cave studded with diamonds.

6:30-8 — Channel 5—Clu Gulager gets the chance to be the big hero or the big coward on The Virginian. He and a stagecoach filled with passengers are quietly ambushed by a horde of brooding, but silent Mexicans. The hordes are out for the hide of Earl Holliman, who did one of their seniors wrong. Question here is whether Gulager should turn him over to a lynching or hold out for a proper trial. (Color)

7:30-8 — Channels 11-6-9 — Frisky, improbable Gidget is again in a turmoil. This time the villain is her English teacher (Noami Pitlik) whom she calls "Hardy-Har-Har." Seems he is flunking her because she is not the wizard like her professor dad. (Color)

8-9 — Channels 11-6-9—The Big Valley's "Winner Lose All" isn't going to go well with fans of Heatin, that illegitimate Barkley. The boy falls for a sweet Mexican lass, who has been carefully trained in Eastern ways. The romance blossoms until her father (who is carefully battling Victoria over a land grant) discovers the boy isn't legit. (Color)

8:30-9 — Channels 2-7-12—The Dick Van Dyke Show is siller and a bit more contrived than usual with "The Great Perse Fortune." But there are still some genuine funny moments in this tale of Rob's quest to become the heir of his mean Uncle Hezekiah Van Dyke is especially cunning and cutting playing his regular character and his Uncle, too.

9-10 — Channels 4-5—I Spy's tennis-playing sleuths are still chasing dragons through the crowded streets of Hong Kong.

In "Danny Was a Millionaire," they are out to keep Martin Landau, a careless mobster with an Al Capone complex, alive. There is plenty of humor here as they dodge bombings and assassins in a seemingly senseless assignment. (Color)

9-10 — Channels 2-7-12—The Danny Kaye Show provides Dinah Shore with her most ambitious guest spot of the season. The lady is all over the place, joining Danny in songs like "Mood I'm In," and Mildred and Harry comedy sketches. The two also do considerable silly caving in the audience. Also featured are Herb Albert and the Tijuana Brass. (Color)

At the Right, Queen Cheryl presents a demonstration on the use of honey. In this case she has prepared one of her favorite recipes, Honey Fruit Punch, and is serving it in cups for her audience to taste-test. As Wisconsin's 1965 Honey Queen, Cheryl has given many different demonstrations ranging from making honey coffee kuchen to fluffy desserts.

Honey Recipes to a Queen's Taste

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

The end of an exciting, busy year is only a few weeks away for Wisconsin's Honey Queen Cheryl Mueller of Seymour. The charming, dark-haired, sparkling-eyed Cheryl ends her queenly duties Nov. 3 and 4 at Rice Lake when she crowns a new queen for 1966 at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Beekeepers Association.

Being a state queen has brought both adventure and fun to the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mueller, 438 Foote St., Seymour. It also has brought her many new friends. She has had to present demonstrations on the uses of honey . . . and being an excellent cook she enjoys exploring new recipes and creating new dishes . . . make official appearances and even give speeches on occasion.

But all this has not been the difficult part for Cheryl. In a way, she has been grooming herself for her "royal" duties for years as a 4-H club worker. Active in this youth work, since she was a youngster, Cheryl always has specialized in foods and nutrition. She learned how to cook well as a child and never lost her interest in meal preparation.

Awards Early
She was entering and winning awards in food contests by the time she was a student in Seymour High School. At 17, Cheryl was judged the Honey Puts the Finishing touches on the breakfast Cheryl is preparing with careful attention to color and taste appeal as well as nutrition. The golden brown toast, plain or frenched, is spread with butter then drizzled with honey. Just a whisper of the amber liquid goes into the mixed fruit sauce.

An Enthusiastic Packer-Backer, Queen Cheryl has been one of the team's cheerleading Golden Girls for several seasons. This is one of her favorite activities in spite of the demands on her precious time. After all, having to be at all home games means that she gets to see them all, too, from the best vantage point in the world . . . an official spot on the sidelines.

Survey Shows It's Bride Who Switches Food Brands to Please Her Husband

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Who husband prefers, a survey wins out when young newlyweds shows. A report on the survey which came up with this man-warming finding was presented today to the annual meeting of the National Association of Food Chains.

The study delved into the shopping habits of the nation's 57 million housewives and included a hard look at the buying practices of newlyweds who have an average weekly food budget of $20.43.

Serious Shopper
The new bride as a shopper, said the report, is "serious, studious, value-minded, uncertain, responsive, appreciative and proud."

"About two-thirds of brands purchased are the same as mother bought," the study said, but "when bride and groom disagree — the bride usually surrenders and buys the brand her husband prefers."

Other findings:
— Upper income families buy more than three times as much frozen food and six times as much frozen baked goods as lower income families. They also are less likely to try new products, less interested in food stamps and buy more than four times as much colored toilet tissue as other families. Stamp Savers — Trade stamps are most important to blue collar families, who spend a greater portion of their incomes on food than any other group. This group is also most loyal to its supermarkets.

— Negro families are heavy buyers of well-known brand items and buy the most deserts. Negroes generally consider their local food markets as good as stores in other neighborhoods.

— Small town families are very stamp conscious, switch markets regularly and spend much less than city groups on meat and produce.

The market study, which will take another 15 months to complete, is sponsored by the Kroger Co., the Progressive Grocer magazine and the Reuben H. Donnelley Corp.

Auxiliary Votes Donations to Aid Veterans

SHERWOOD — Members of the Thomas E. Kees American Legion Auxiliary Thursday evening voted donations to the Christmas Gift Shop at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Wood; the Christmas Cheer fund, and the hospital treats and rehabilitation stamp fund.

Plans were made to sell candy and to have booths at the annual American Legion Fall Festival Nov. 13 and 14. Junior members will sell candy door-to-door this week. Senior members will have charge of the lunch stand and parcel post booth at the festival. Mrs. Jacob Mueller and Mrs. Edward Rogalska are chairmen for the parcel post booth.

Mrs. Kenneth Ott and Mrs. Carl Hendrickson will be co-chairmen of the May poppy sale.

Auxiliary members, their husbands and guests have been invited to the Veterans Day dinner Nov. 13 at The Cliffs.

The white elephant silent auction after the meeting was staged by Mrs. Clarence Mueller, Mrs. Hilary Miller and Mrs. Julius Schmidt. Proceeds will be used to purchase clubhouse equipment.

Mrs. Jerome Spang, Mrs. Ott and Mrs. Walter Michels were co-hostesses for the evening.

Fox Valley Council to Honor Adults in Scouting Program

The Fox River Area Girl Scout Council will extend its appreciation to all those who have helped carry out its five-county program at an annual recognition and inspiration dinner Nov. 9. The event is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. at First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Anthony Daleiden will present the year's awards at 7:30 p.m. The program will be given by Scouts who attended the Roundup in Farragut, Idaho; Inter-Council Encampment at Hunter Lake, Mich., and All-States Encampment at Natchez National Park near Ashville, N.C. The Senior Scouts will use the theme, "Girl Scouting — A Promise in Action", to summarize their activities at these events.

Mrs. Hubert F. Wetak is general chairman for the Council event. She is assisted by Miss Colleen Myers, program chairmen are Mrs. William Chopin, Mrs. Daleiden, awards, Mrs. Appleton; Mrs. Norbert Otte, Ralph Watts, publicity; Mrs. Kaukauna; Mrs. William Anholzer, John Swanson, dinner; Mrs. Melvin Ruth, dinner tickets, and Mrs. H. Pete Christensen, decorations. Community Association chairmen have charge of reservations, which may be made until Nov. 1.

All adult scouts, their husbands and anyone interested in Scouting have been invited to attend the dinner. Those who wish may attend only the program.

What Isn't Told May Be Clear

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"The big problem is how much to tell you," my 14-year-old son, John, said to me the other day. "I had the same problem with my own parents."

I admitted, "They sometimes figured out exactly what I was trying to hide."

We were talking about the bridge hand shown today. John, my partner, held the North cards and wondered whether to tell me about his hand or tell me only what he thought I ought to know.

The informative method is to bid three diamonds and later bid clubs to show control of the suit. If I cooperated by bidding hearts, he could bid six or seven diamonds without fear. If I of the actual age of your slam, the opponents know that best chance to collect two tricks you're both afraid of the fourth on the run.

BOLD BID WORKS
The advantage of bidding the 10 5. H 9 3. D A 10 9 8 5 2. C slam without further investigation is that you tell the opponents nothing. You often make the slam when it is spades later, even at a high theoretically unmakeable as well level. This method of bidding indicates that the diamonds are when John jumped to six longer than the spades.

Sandra Holz Guest of Honor At Showers

Miss Sandra Jean Holz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holz, 142 Ellen Lane, route 1, Appleton, was honored recently at several pre-nuptial showers.

The bride-elect was feted at a dinner given by her co-workers at the main office of Kimberly-Clark Corp., Oct. 14 at Alex's Manor House. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Schroeder, 122 Sky Line Drive, Appleton, was the setting for a shower Oct. 14.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Donald Schultz and Mrs. Robert Lorenz, Hortonville. Mrs. Shirley Welch, Black Creek, and Mrs. John Runte, Neenah.

Miss Holz was guest of honor at a party Oct. 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Holz, 1 Hortonville. The bride's aunts, Mrs. Holz, Mrs. Myron Leitzke, Mrs. Forrest Holz and Mrs. Harold Schroeder, were hostesses.

Mrs. Robert Boisen, 1000 E. Kay St., entertained for the bride-elect at a shower Thursday. Assisting were Miss Sharon Schmeling, Neenah, and Miss Nancy Holz.

Miss Holz will be married to Richard Allen Conover Jr., Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allen Conover Sr., Jupiter, Fla.

Fish for Salads

Salmon, cod, haddock and halibut are fish that flake easily after cooking so that they may be used in fish salads.

A P.B.X. Club Was Organized recently in Appleton, with 170 representatives on hand for the initial meeting. Discussing plans for the group, to be composed of switchboard operators working at private branch exchanges, are Miss Genevieve Mortell of the Wisconsin Telephone Co.; Miss Margaret Walsh of Telephone Secretaries, Inc.; Emil Meyer, Kimberly-Clark Corp. communications superintendent; Miss Stella Minsart, Wisconsin Telephone Co.; and Mrs. Mary Masiak, Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., Kaukauna. (Post-Crescent Photo)

P.B.X. Club Organized

Switchboard operators and management personnel from 70 Fox Cities firms attended an organizational meeting for the new P.B.X. Operators Club recently. The dinner meeting took place at the Wisconsin Telephone Co.

Emil Meyer of Kimberly-Clark Corp. spoke to the group on job attitudes, explaining that to many people, the switchboard operator is the sole contact with the firm, and company image is created by the voice and attitude.

Miss Margaret Walsh of Telephone Secretaries Inc. explained the organization of the International P.B.X. Club. Object of the organization is to create a spirit of good will among operators, employers and the Telephone Company, and to raise the status of Private Branch Exchange operators.

Miss Genevieve Mortell and Mrs. Stella Minsart of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. had charge of the meeting. Operators voted to organize a local group, with the next meeting scheduled Nov. 16 at the Telephone Co.

Wisconsins Freshest and Finest

Even a Queen Who's An accomplished cook has to study when she's in college. At home in Seymour for the weekend, Cheryl Mueller spends part of her time preparing for Monday morning classes at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

top cook of Outagamie County during a county-wide Dairy Cook-Off. She had been a consistent winner in the junior division before this.

Fellow members of the Seymour 4-H Club chose her as their representative to state club week in Madison in 1964 and she also attended a citizenship session in Washington, D.C., one summer.

It's finding the time to do it all that's been the hardest chore... especially now that she's going to college. Cheryl is a student in elementary education at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh. She also plans to minor in music before she's through. Cheryl also teaches a group of youngsters baton twirling and she herself serves as one of the cheerleading, twirling Golden Girls at all home games of the Green Bay Packers.

Studying and college activities, with her queenly duties in between, have made a busy schedule for the young woman. But she seems to come by all this energetic activity naturally. Her mother always has been a faithful 4-H club standby... her father currently is president of the Board of the Outagamie County Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA). Her grandmother, Mrs. Hilmer Mueller, rural Seymour, is chairman of the 8th District promotion committee of the American Dairy Association. Both grandparents are longtime leaders in the Fox Valley and Outagamie County Holstein Breeders Association.

During this last year, Queen Cheryl has collected an enviable "batch" of honey recipes, of course. It's impossible to list them all, so here are a few representative ones hand-picked by Queen Cheryl.

HONEY FRUIT PUNCH
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 cups grapefruit juice
1 cup orange juice
Orange slices for garnish
Add honey to lemon juice, mix well. Add water and chilled fruit juices. Garnish with thin orange slices.

SUNNY HONEY CAKE
2 cups flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon mace
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup honey
1/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon almond extract
Honey-Nut Topping
Sweetened whipped cream
Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, ginger and mace. Cream butter and sugar together; blend in eggs and honey. Combine milk and almond extract; add alternately with dry ingredients to creamed mixture. Begin and end with dry ingredients.

Turn into two 8-inch round layer pans, greased and floured on bottoms. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes, or until tests done.

While cake is baking, prepare topping and sweetened whipped cream. Spread cake layers, when done, with topping; broil until golden brown, about two to three minutes. Cool cake; remove from pans.

Spread half-cup whipped cream on one layer. Top with second layer. Spread remaining cream around sides of cake.

HONEY-NUT TOPPING
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup soft butter
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
Combine all ingredients, blending well.

SWEETENED WHIPPED CREAM
1 cup whipping cream

3 teaspoons powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Beat cream with powdered sugar and almond extract until mixture is thick and fluffy.

PEANUT BUTTER HONEY COOKIES
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 egg
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup peanuts, chopped

Mix shortening, sugar, honey, peanut butter and egg thoroughly. Blend dry ingredients together, then mix into shortening mixture. Stir in peanuts.

Shape into a strip about 10 inches long and two inches wide. Wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator for several hours. Bake as needed.

To bake, preheat oven to 400 degrees. Cut dough into eighth-inch slices. Place about one inch apart on a greased baking sheet; bake about eight to 10 minutes. Recipe makes about six and a half dozen cookies.

SEMI-SWEET HONEY STICKS
1/2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1/4 cup honey
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits

Blend shortening, vanilla and sugar. Beat in egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Add honey alternately with flour mixture. Mix well. Add chocolate bits.

Spread in greased 15-by-10-inch pan. Bake in preheated, 400 degree oven for 12 minutes. Cool. Cut into sticks about three by one inch. Recipe makes about 48 sticks.

HONEY-BAKED HAM
1 ham
3 cups moist bread crumbs
1 cup honey
1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple
Cloves whole

Select a nice quality ham of desired size. Wipe with damp cloth and remove unsightly parts. Wrap loosely in parchment paper or similar paper such as comes wrapped around ham. Place fat side up in roasting pan. Bake at 300 degrees, allowing 20 minutes per pound. When baked, remove paper and also remove skin.

Rub surface of ham completely with crumbs. Press cloves about one inch apart over entire surface. Add honey to pineapple and heat until hot. Pour this syrup over ham and continue baking. Baste occasionally until a rich brown glaze is obtained and the ham is fork-tender.

BOUNTIFUL SALAD MOLD
1 pkg. orange-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup unpeeled diced red apples
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Whipped cream and honey

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add honey and cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in apples and pecans. Pour into a one-quart mold. Chill until set. Unmold on serving plate. Serve with topping of whipped cream dribbled with teaspoon of honey in center.

GLOUDEMAN'S

This spread is brand new. It tastes exactly like peanut butter and bacon... but there's no bacon in it.

Until now, when you wanted a peanut butter and bacon sandwich you had to fry the bacon until it crisped, drain off the fat, blot up excess drippings with paper towels, crumble the bacon in a mixing bowl, and add a generous amount of Skippy® Peanut Butter. Then you got a large spoon and stirred until it was well mixed and reasonably easy to spread.

Skippy has changed all that. New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has taken the work and the mess and the cleaning-up out of making a peanut butter and bacon sandwich.

New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has all the crunch, crackle and old-fashioned smokehouse flavor of bacon. But instead of bacon, Skippy has created little crisps of vegetable protein with remarkably true bacon flavor. These, mixed with Skippy, make a tasty spread—perfect for snacks, canapes, and sandwiches, even on meatless days.

So, for all you people who like the taste of a bacon and Skippy sandwich, try them together in new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps.

Try some and Skippy will send you 50 cents in cash!

We're so sure you'll like the exciting taste of new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps that we'll send you 50 cents in cash for just buying a jar—any size!

Simply send the label from a jar of Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps, and the coupon provided here to Skippy Smoky Crisps, Box 742, Brooklyn, New York 11202. By return mail, Skippy will send you 50 cents in cash.

12-Year-Old Son Shouldn't be Subjected to Mom's Impropriety

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My friend seems to think it is improper for my 12-year-old son to undress in my presence at bedtime. Sometimes the boy takes his clothes off in front of me and doesn't think a thing of it. At other times he develops streaks of bashfulness and asks me to leave the room, which is O.K. I always oblige. There's no way of telling how he's going to feel about this from one day to the next.

And while we are on the subject, what about a mother undressing in the presence of her 12-year-old son? I have never made a point of hiding when I dress or undress because I don't want my son to grow up thinking the human body is something to be ashamed of. What are your views?—No Fig Leaf

Dear No Fig: Most 12-year-old boys want privacy and they deserve it. You are wise not to make an issue of it when your son develops

"streaks of bashfulness." You should be wanting privacy, too, Mother. Disrobing before a boy of 12 is a form of subconscious seduction. No point of covering up children, but by the time they are 12 years old children should not see a parent of the opposite sex parading around nude

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I make my home with my daughter who was widowed two years ago. She needs me badly because I take care of her three children while she works.

I just learned the terrible truth about something I have suspected for almost six months. My daughter is having an affair with her supervisor. He is a married man with a family.

My religion has always meant a great deal to me. I feel that I am offending God by living in a home where there is shameless sin. I could manage financially if I took a room elsewhere, and I think perhaps I should do just that. It would be difficult to favor and publish this in the believe that the best policy is to leave the children but at least I paper would feel right with my conscience. I read the Bible every night for comfort but I cannot find the answer to my problem. Can you help?—Tormented Mother

Dear Mother: Keep reading. When you come to the line, "Hate the sin but love the sinner," put a bookmark in that place and read it every day.

If you leave, your daughter would have to hire a housekeeper. Your grandchildren would be the losers—and so would you. Stay where you are needed.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please do us teen-age girls a

How can a girl who isn't especially beautiful keep a fellow interested without letting him get away with murder. My cousin who has gone steady with five different guys says the best way is to let a fellow make slow gains. Her system didn't work out very well. She is now in the Florence Crittenton home for unwed mothers. Somebody made a few gains she hadn't planned on.

Another girl says it's best to let the boy know from the first date that good conversation is all he is going to get because boys respect girls who draw the line from the very first. Maybe she is right but she sure stays home a lot.

I am not an extremist. I

What do you say?—Pussycat

Dear Pussycat: Get out of the middle of the road, kiddo. That's where most of the accidents happen.

That girl who stays home a lot has the right idea. When she does go out it will be with the right kind of fellows. The girl who feels she must resort to intimacy in order to keep a boy interested admits she has nothing else to offer.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Usually parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

Toget rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a soothing coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge, special small, easy-to-take tablets—special sizes for children and adults.

Antipoverty Move Part of LBJ Society

Problems of Poor Considered, Cared for by Busy 89th Congress

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY over the hump, they are prospering, and thinking of expanding into candy," a Shriver assistant said.

The multitudinous projects of the Office of Economic Opportunity include:

Community action programs — these, ranging from education in the three R's to job training to clean-up-the-block campaigns, are sort of revolutionary, in that by law poor people must sit on the policy-making committees. There has been much pulling and hauling with established powers that be. But Shriver aides say that in Clarksdale, Miss., a Negro civil rights worker sits on a committee with a White Citizens Council man.

Domestic Corps

VISTA — This is short for Volunteers in Service To America. It is a "domestic Peace Corps," composed mostly of college-age folks, with a spring greater or lesser degree, by which retired elderly workers teach the children of the "Great Society" measures passed at the first session of the 89th Congress.

High Spending

It was a session in which appropriations for all purposes hit a peacetime high of about $118 billion, in which one supplemental appropriation of $4.7 billion, to help finance 35 "Great Society" programs and other activities, equalled the entire cost of government in the fiscal year 1932.

While critics cried "Peder-palooza" and accused the Johnson administration of a mammoth boondoggle, Congress be- lieved what the President's back- ers called "a great leap for- ward" in social welfare. Peder- naies is the name of the river at the Johnson Texas ranch.

Almost doubled was the mon- ey for Sargent Shriver's anti- poverty campaign—from $800 million last fiscal year to $1.5 billion this year. However, the project operated only seven months last year, so the month- ly spending rate stays about the same.

Where will this money go, just how will it affect people?

By way of example, Shriver's aides he to tell the story of the some Negro women in Lafay- ette, La. They cooked toothsome fruitcake, but too few customers stopped at their roadside stand.

Then, with a $25,000 antipo- verty loan, they started a cooper- ative to run a bakery and mark- et the cake.

Business Success

"Last Christmas saw them

from place to place in megalo- polis, the nature-lover bemoan- ing the reported slaughter of wildlife by pesticides.

All these people and millions more could be affected, in college- greater or lesser degree, by what President Johnson calls the "Great Society" measures passed at the first session of the 89th Congress.

Job Corps—The trick here is to train youths for jobs that ac- tually exist. Emphasis is on such trades as welding—there's a crying shortage of welders; mechanics who can do simple auto repairs, hotel jobs, small boat repairs and cookery.

Neighborhood Youth Corps — The aim is to prevent school dropouts by providing part-time jobs. In some towns, youngsters work in libraries, at Passaic, N.J., they help clean a polluted river, on Cape Cod, Mass., they build jetties against beach ero- sion. Wage: the legal minimum of $1.25 an hour. "This helps," said an antipoverty official, "because how can a kid go to school if he has no shoes?"

In retraining adult workers, pitfalls must be watched for. Recently, in New York City, 49 men were trained to maintain air conditioners. But the water- short city clamped restrictions on air conditioning, and the ex- pected jobs did not materialize.

For one of the nation's sorest economic spots — Appala- chia, stretching from northern Pennsylvania to Alabama — Congress authorized a $1.1-billion five-year program.

The impoverished mountain folk, and coal miners passed by in automation's progress, will get a chance to help build an $810 million highway network. The aim is to open up hills and valleys for industry and recrea- tion.

Start Delayed

However, the start of these new subsidies was delayed at least until next year when the House bucked at supplying funds. This was a setback for the Johnson administration.

The housing program has many other features, such as grants up to $1,500 to home own- ers with incomes of $3,000 or less, to repair their rundown properties, provision for 240,000 units of public housing, 100,000 of which might be obtained by buying or renting existing homes. This could be a boon to the central core of cities, where big old houses are often a wast- ing asset.

The problems of the cities were much on the mind of Con- gress. It created an 11th Cabinet department, the Department of Housing and Urban Development. For the moment, it on high-speed rail transport be- amounts to little more than a new Washington and Boston, changing of name-plates on perhaps eventually whisking doors, a regrouping of existing passengers at 150 miles an hour.

City Problems

But for the future, it undoubt- edly spells greatly increased at- tention to the problems of ac- tivities, in which 70 per cent of Americans now live.

Transportation, for example, Experts say that a motorist, bucking New York traffic, is lucky if he travels across the city at an average of nine miles an hour.

What happens when megalo- polis, a vast city, stretches from funds. Norfolk, Va., to Portland, Maine? Seeking an answer, go, or auto graveyards which Congress set up a $30-million must be screened or removed, study and demonstration pro- gram. Emphasis at first will be federal funds.

Billboard Control

It requires states to initiate billboard and junkyard controls along the interstate and pri- mary systems by Jan. 1, 1968. If they don't, they lose 10 per cent of their federal highway and calls for removal of all signs on the primary system, except in designated "commercial or in- dustrial" areas, and on the premises of businesses doing the advertising.

If, against the billboard lobby, nature lovers did not score an unqualified breakthrough, it was otherwise with those who have argued that the federal government should do more to support the arts.

Mother, Five Children Die In Auto Crash

SIKESTON Mo. (AP) — A mother and her five children were among seven persons killed Tuesday night in a two-car collision in southeast Mis- souri.

Coroner Ray Rainey identified the dead as Byron Jones, 65 of Essex, Mo., Fannie May Richardson, in her 40s, of Gray Ridge, Mo.; and her children, John, 16, Bess, 12, Tom, 9, Bel- ty, 6, and Mary, 4.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said all the victims were in a car that apparently pulled from a side road into the path of an oncoming auto on U.S. 60, 12 miles west of Sikeston.

The only survivor was Ted Kelly, 39, of Sikeston, driver of the other car. He was hospi- talized with undetermined inju- ries.

KROGER TENDERAY BEEF IS U.S. CHOICE BEEF

Unlike other beef tenderizing methods, we speed up natural tendering action in special climate-controlled Tenderay rooms where Tenderay Beef is tendered naturally while still fresh — in 44 hours or less.

No sprays, no chemicals are ever used. Tenderay Beef stays rosy-fresh — the interior fibers relax and mature. No other beef so fresh can be so naturally tender — Kroger guarantees it!

Kroger-priced means Lower-Priced Wisconsin-Made Products

Countless new customers who have made their own comparisons have found that

Kroger Priced Means LOWER-PRICED

That's true also of all the Wisconsin Made Products which are sold in Kroger stores. The sale of these products helps employment and the whole economy of the state. Kroger sells several million dollars worth of foods produced and canned in Wisconsin. This is just as true of paper products, fluid milk, ice cream, cheese and sausages . . . Plus many, many more items.

Cashiers to Don Paris Originals

Jacques Heim is no fairy godfather, but he has touched haute couture collections with an individual magic that has made quite a name for him in the fashion world here and in Paris. Now he's the benefactor of the local girls you see every week when shopping for the family.

A corporation that services and supplies independent, midwestern groceries says of the trend to prettier check-out lines: "Cashiers are no longer Cinderellas. Paris has touched their shoulders with a magic wand and work will be done in stylish perfection. The dowdy classic uniform will soon be as out-dated as Susan B. Anthony's bonnet."

M. Heim has come to the aid of the checker just as other designers have other working girls. And while the greater per cent have to settle for ready-to-wear off the rack, the little girl in the red and blue dress at the register is wearing a Paris original and a high style hard-to-find especially designed for her.

She joins the procession of airline hostesses with new hats and designer original ensembles, recruiting officers for women's armed forces who show up looking like fashion plates and nuns in new habits styled after conventional streetwear. And they are just ahead of nurses, waiting for the day it's off-with-the-clinical-white and on with the psychologically comforting pastels.

The supermarket girls who have been given a fashion ego boost will be donning A line ensembles of cotton in a color called French blue. Its scarlet colored vest-effect bodice is set off with silver buttons repeated on the dem-belted back. The collar is scarlet and french flavored cuff effects repeat the color. As a topper when weather is cool, a short-cropped jacket in blue will top the dress.

Modeled recently for store

personnel and managers, the new uniforms were shown in the company of softly styled daytime hairdos designed to complement the lines of the dresses.

The program took place at the Hotel Northland, Green Bay.

About 200 Green Bay supermarket clerks saw hair styles such as this created during a charm clinic and new uniform showing recently at the Hotel Northland. This style is for a round shaped face.

This sketch of a hair style was shown for women with square shaped faces.

Hortonville Plans to Extend Public Utilities

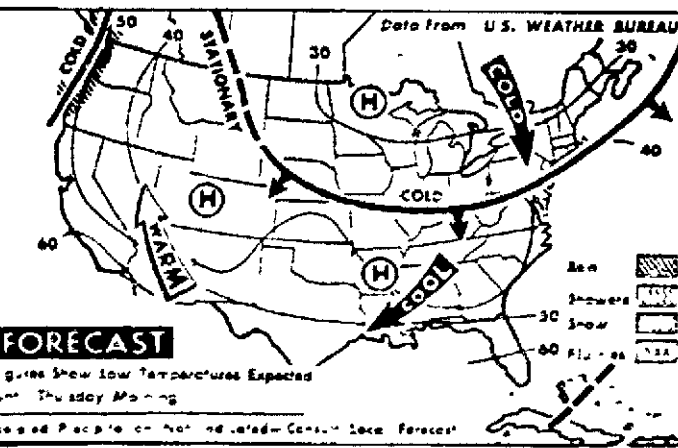

Hearing on Proposal For N. Olk, N. Nash Scheduled Nov. 4

HORTONVILLE A public hearing on the planned extension of water and sewer facilities from N. Olk and N. Nash streets to the intersection of County M and MM will be at 7 p.m. Nov. 4 at the village hall. Glass and Donaldson Wau-paca, village consulting engineers will have plans and cost figures ready for the hearing. Bids for a dump truck for the street department are to be submitted to clerk Roger Co-nen by 7:30 p.m. Nov. 13. Village Atty. Kelton Lattrop will contact the State Board of Health and the Public Service Commission to speed up the approval of an application to build and install a septic tank and drain field. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Strang, 344 S. Nash St. submitted the application. Apply To Village The Strongs had applied for a building permit from the village for building in the Black Otter Lake subdivision. The board said it had to check if it is lawful for them to issue a permit. The problem arose because the Black Otter Lake subdivi-sion plat has not been complet-ed. Water and sewer has to be installed in some areas. Strong was told he would have to get State Board of Health and PSC approval of his applica-tion.

Freedom Firemen Study Ways of Coping With Flood, Fire Disasters

FREEDOM—Fire and disaster techniques were described to Freedom Volunteer firemen at their annual banquet Sunday in St. Nicholas Church hall by Allen Huelt chief of fire rescue service for the state board of adult education. Huelt also showed slides of Mississippi River flooding and a mock school bus accident. He explained how to cope with the situations should they arise. Invocation was given by the Rev. Erwin E. Boettcher, pastor of the Freedom Moravian Church, and the Rev. Alfred Hietpas, pastor of St. Nicholas Church, gave the prayer of thanksgiving at the homes of den mothers. Meetings will last about an hour.

Five Cub Scout Dens Organized at Freedom

FREEDOM—A Freedom Cub Scout organizational meeting was conducted last Thursday. Five dens of five to seven members were established. Meetings will start this week.

Clear Here, Smoggy Out West

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Smog and dog-days heat cloaked Southern California areas but it was cool, dry and autumn like almost everywhere else. Eyes watered as the smog level shot up to the highest point in nine years in the Los Angeles area Tuesday. In the Pasadena-Azusa area where a smog alert was issued in mid-afternoon, the ozone level stood at 67 parts per million parts of air. The level was the highest since suburban Pico Rivera had a 70 reading in 1956. Adding to the discomfort was the temperature which hit 92 in downtown Los Angeles. The searing heat wave spread north to Sacramento, where the high of 88 set a record, and west to Palm Springs, hottest spot in the nation with 100. Rainfall was limited to a few showers from the eastern Great Lakes through upstate New York. The eastern half of the country continued to have seasonably cool temperatures. Temperatures slightly above normal prevailed in the West.

Jury Reverses Conviction of Seymour Driver

A six-man Outagamie County Circuit Court jury Tuesday afternoon acquitted Edwin Kaczowski, 20, 215 E. Pearl St. Seymour, who appealed a conviction of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. Kaczowski was arrested May 2 by Seymour police. He pleaded innocent and was found guilty by the court following a trial July 26 in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. He was fined $200 and costs and his driver's license was ordered revoked for one year. Tuesday's innocent verdict followed 50 minutes of deliberation by the jury. The case began Tuesday morning in Circuit Judge A. W. Parnell's court.

Future Teacher Group at KHS Names Officers

KAUKAUNA — Bruce Pelky was named president, Patrick Green vice president, Kristin Kauth secretary-treasurer, and Charles Jacobson historian by the Future Teachers Association at Kaukauna High School. Club advisers are Mrs. Patricia Netzel and Kenneth Toebe. Over 30 students are club members and each work with a teacher in the public school system one-half hour per week to learn more about teaching as a career. Meetings are scheduled monthly at which students will learn more about their chosen fields through talks or discussions with educators, college students in the field of education and others.

Medicare Information Kits Sent to 15 1/2 Million Persons

Working round the clock since and will hear directly from Sept. 1, 1965, Social Security their local welfare agencies headquarters in Baltimore has Another third are still working full time and will need to file completed the mailing of Medi-care information kits to all of social security applications. About one million will also have to get in touch with their local social security office. The enrollment period for those who will be 65 or over before the end of the year, closes March 31, 1966. Donnick pointed out The March 31st deadline is very important, he stressed. Everyone who is 65 or will be by Jan. 1, 1966, must return the medical insurance enrollment card by March 31, 1966 if he wants full protection when the program goes into effect July 1, 1966. For the shut ins, the district office will make arrangements to have a Social Security representative pay a visit to them at home. The Appleton office is at 401 S. Elm St. The telephone number is 734-8793.

Supervisor Questions Why 4-H Charged for Building Use

OSHKOSH — "Why?" Supv. heat, light, water and janitor John "Blondie" Pawlowski, Me-nasha, wanted to know. "Why do we have to pay rent to use the building for 4-H?" Supv. to use a county building? I want an answer, why?"

The Menasha supervisor was referring to the all-purpose building at the fairgrounds which was built with county funds and for which county agencies have to pay a $25 charge.

County agent Vernon Perout-ky replied that the charge by the fair association was to cover preparing and serving meals.

The meals have to be catered. The county agent said for some of its larger meetings it has been provided the use of other public buildings, such as schools and church halls, without charge. "We treat it like our own money," he said in referring to the $600 in the budget.

"If we can avoid paying it, we do."

"Why did we build it?" Supv. Pawlowski continued. "For a roller skating rink? Now we are going to build another building. Why? I would like an answer. Why?"

Urge $50,000 Budget for Recreational Development

OSHKOSH — Budgeting $50,000 for land acquisition and development of a long-range program for park and recreational space development was urged at Tuesday afternoon's session of the Winnebago County Board.

Appearing were Gordon A. Subolz, chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, Emil Brandt of the regional planning commission staff, and Richard Lehmann of the State Department of Resource Development.

Subolz spoke on the importance of the water resources of the county and safeguarding and preserving the wetlands and protecting the stream banks from erosion.

Brandt stressed the need to protect beach areas and told of the projected demands for land for recreational use which the county will face in future years.

Brandt reviewed the study and findings made by the Wolf River commission as to Winnebago County's recreational needs.

It is not recommended that Winnebago County buy and develop all the recreation space it needs right away, the report

David Carley Calls Politics Art of Possible

Democratic National Committeeman Talks At WSU-O Tuesday

OSHKOSH — "Politics is more than the art of the possible it is the enlargement of the possible" David Carley, Democratic National Committeeman, told a meeting of the Young Dems at Wisconsin State University - Oshkosh, Tuesday.

He said politics has the ability to enlarge on the horizons of the people, to give the people more opportunities and advantages.

"Each decision," he said, "made each day by politicians is more important than the decisions of the leaders of the large corporations," he explained. "One of the goals of society, he said, is to provide as many educated people as it can — both scientifically and mentally trained people," he explained.

Most Important

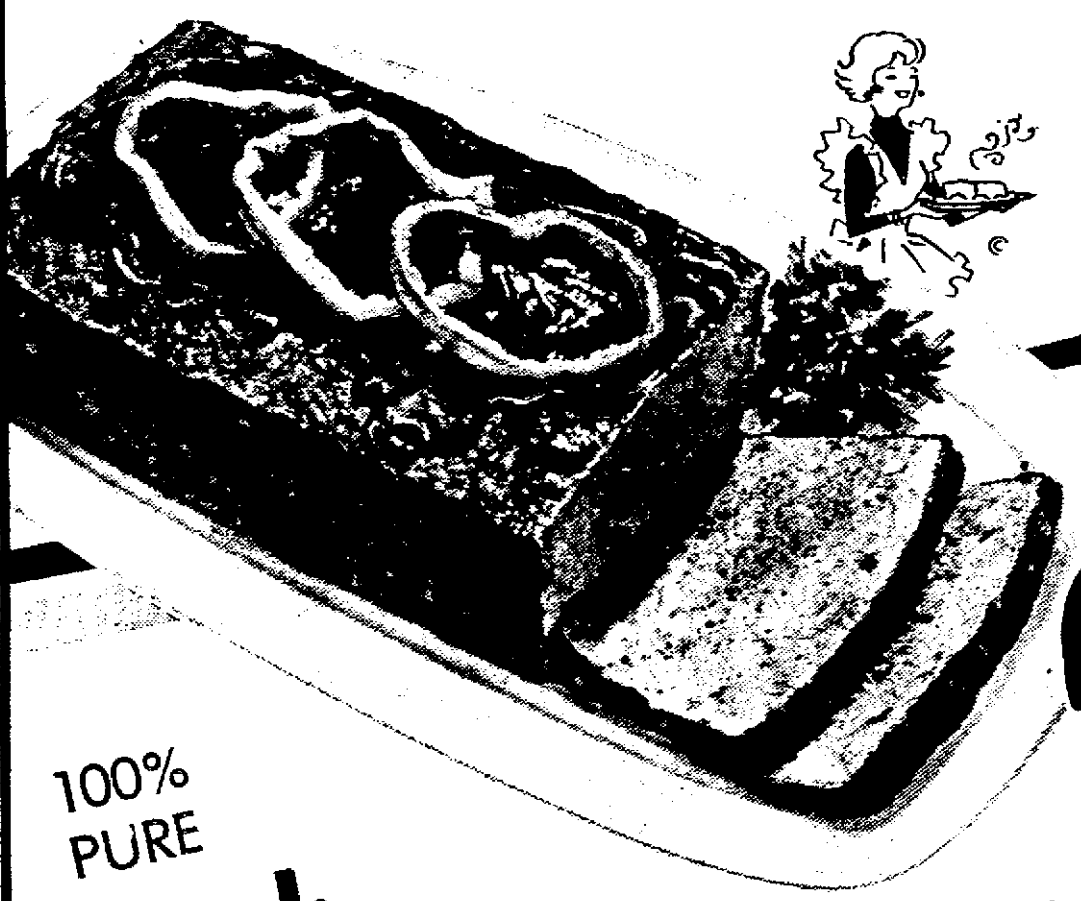

Education is one of the most important aspects of government, he said. "If I would have been governor, the budget would have been at least as large if not larger than it is now," he said.

The budget fell short on meeting the demands of education, he said, and he would have increased the education budget by at least 3 per cent.

Carley said politics is not an evil thing but a wonderful creation.

He took issue with Gov. Warren Knowles' recent statement that state government is like a corporation.

He said as a past president of a corporation he could not agree with the statement. Private industry is more concerned with the net profit or loss, and it is measured in dollars and cents whereby a state government can only measure its profit in the education of its residents.

Initials R. B. Stand Out in Minds of All Green Bay Packers

Rudy Bukich, Richard Butkus to be On Opposite Sides of Line Sunday

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Two Bear names come to mind today... and they both have the same initials — R. B.

One represents a problem for the Packer defense... the other same for the Packer offense.

They are Rudy Bukich, quarterback, and Richard Butkus, middle linebacker.

Bukich emerged this day as the National Football League's leading passer... Butkus is fresh from receiving his biggest prize as a pro — the game ball after the Grizzlies' victory over the Lions last Sunday.

Bukich, a schoolteacher in the off-season who previously labored for the Rams, Redskins and Steelers, replaced the Packers' Bart Starr at the head of the pitching class.

The 205-pound hurler left quite an impression in his 1965 appearance at Lambeau Field Oct. 3. He came on in the second half, with the Bears behind 23-0, and worked up two touchdowns. In addition, he helped the Bears "freeze" the ball for 47 plays while the Pack had it for only 24.

Bill Wade started that game at quarterback and once got the Bears all the way to the Packer eight-yard line — only to fumble it away. It's a safe bet that Bukich will start against the Pack in Chicago.

Bukich had an experience with Green Bay in Chicago last Dec. 5. He suffered a shoulder separation when he ran five yards around his own right end before his departure he lost a fumble to Lionel Aldridge and had two passes intercepted by Herb Adderley — both aimed at Johnny Morris. The Packers won the hard-fought game 17-3.

Butkus, a native Chicagoan, was accorded the "game ball" honor simply for his all-around brilliance on defense. He has recovered two fumbles and intercepted two passes thus far.

"Butkus is a great player," said Bear Coach George Halas, "and he gets better every week."

Nick Pietrosante was miffed that the Bears gave the game ball to Butkus. Said Nick: "They should have given it to us."

The Bears were unhappy that they didn't shut out the Lions. said Bear defense Coach George Allen: "We wanted a shutout and we gave them a touchdown. Dammit! A field goal's all right but no touchdowns."

The Bears have another R. B. — Ronnie Bull — the rusher.

Statistics Can be Misleading

Packers Now Fifth in Total Defense but Are Ninth Offensively

NEW YORK (AP) — Quick now, which attack is best — Green Bay's or New York's? Ninety nine out of 100 will say Green Bay but the latest National Football statistics show the Giants have gained more ground.

Statistics can be most misleading. For instance, they show Green Bay eighth in running, 11th in passing and ninth in total offense. But the all-important won and lost standings show Green Bay way out there with a 6-0 record. New York is 10th in running, seventh in passing and eighth in total offense. But they are 3-3 in the standings after absorbing a 38-14 beating from Cleveland.

The figures also show that Cleveland's much-maligned defense is better than a year ago when the Browns won the championship. Cleveland has permitted opponents to complete 45.1 per cent of their passes, have intercepted 10, given up 43 yards per rush and permitted 1,894 yards over-all.

Only 5 Interceptions

A year ago the comparative statistics showed 55.2 per cent pass completions, only five interceptions, 4.6 yards per rush and 2,036 yards total defense.

However, the Browns are not among the leaders on defense. Baltimore's strong unit is showing the way in both total defense and rushing defense. St. Louis has the best record on pass defense and also has put on the best pass rush, throwing the quarterback 25 times for 226 yards.

San Francisco's high-powered offensive unit which scored 41 points and still lost last week, leads the NFL in total offense and passing.

The 49ers also have kept enemy rush lines off their passer better than any other team. The

Charley Johnson Doubtful Starter

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals, who list quarterback Charley Johnson as a doubtful starter, will be missing corner back Jim Burson for the second straight week Sunday in their National Football League game against the New York Giants.

A Shake-Up After 3 Losses

Lions' Gilmer Benches Milt Plum, Pietrosante

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions' benching of quarterback Milt Plum left fans wondering what Coach Harry Gilmer would, or could, do next.

The wait was brief.

Gilmer followed up by removing Nick Pietrosante as starting fullback and replacing him with Armos Marsh.

The Lions' boss, disturbed over three straight defeats, made both moves Tuesday — taking out Plum for the Los Angeles Rams' game next Sunday and replacing him with newcomer George Izo, a five-year National Football League veteran.

Gilmer said he had decided to give Plum a rest and "see what Izo can do." Izo, former Notre Dame player, was obtained from the Washington Redskins this year in a trade.

In his NFL career Izo, 27, has been mostly a spare quarterback. The benching of Plum was one of numerous ups and downs for the 30-year-old veteran.

With the departure of Earl Morrall to the New York Giants, who just happens to have the best average among Bear runners, 6.38 yards on 134 yards in 21 attempts.

The Bears' swift Gale Sayers is leading the league in kickoff returns, with an average of 34.7 per, and is tied with Fred Cox of the Vikings for the lead in scoring.

Sayers was shaken up on a clothesline tackle by Gene Hugenberg last Sunday and retired in the second quarter after taking a seven-yard TD pass from Bukich.

"All I remember was trying to get up," said Sayers, adding, "I was groggy. I never saw him coming. That's the hardest I've ever been hit by anybody."

Phils Obtain White, Groat

St. Louis Gets Mahaffey, 2 Others In 6-Player Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies obtained first baseman Bill White, shortstop Dick Groat and catcher Bob Uecker from the St. Louis Cardinals today for pitcher Art Mahaffey, outfielder Alex Johnson and catcher Pat Corrales.

The deal obviously opened the way for other trades, especially for the Phillies, who already have slugger Dick Stuart at first base and both Bobby Wine and Ruben Amaro for shortstop.

White and Johnson apparently were the key figures in the six-player swap. It was known that the Phillies were disenchanted with Stuart and figured to look for help at first base.

The Cardinals recently began a house-cleaning of the team that won the National League pennant in 1964 but slumped to sixth last season with the trade of third baseman Ken Boyer to the New York Mets for south paw pitcher Al Jackson and infielder Charles Smith.

Clintonville, Neenah Duel For M-E Crown Saturday

Rockets Bid for Fourth Title In Succession; Truckers Seek To Avenge Last Year's 6-2 Loss

Menasha and Kaukauna to Two Rivers Saturday.

BY TERRY GALVIN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

For the third straight year, the Neenah High School gridiron will be the scene of the championship game in the Mid Eastern Conference.

The Rockets, of Coach Harland Carl, will actually be gunning for their fourth straight M-E title opposite Clintonville's Truckers at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

In 1963, Neenah blanked Clintonville, 19-0, to win the M-E laurels and last season a 14-6 win over Kaukauna in the season finale gave Neenah the title. Both games were played on the NHS field.

Other conference finales send Shawano to Kimberly Friday night and New London to Clintonville a 6-2 setback in the second-last game of the season in 1964. This loss eventually dropped the Truckers into sole possession of the runnerup spot with a 5-1-1 slate. Neenah concluded last season with a 6-1 mark.

Neenah's 6-2 triumph came on a 4-yard touchdown run by the halfback Bruce Rasmussen. Rasmussen is currently the leading scorer in the Mid-Eastern ranks with 48 points. Close behind are teammate Mike Miliken and Kaukauna's Bob Promer with 42.

Saturday's feature attraction will also serve as the Rockets' Homecoming, as will Menasha's game with the unpredictable Bulldogs.

Joining Miliken and Rasmussen in the Rocket backfield will be signal caller Gary Losse, who missed much of the Two Rivers encounter last week because of an injury, and fullback Don Starn.

A victory for the Rockets would extend Harland Carl's perfect string to four straight championships. Carl is now in his fourth season at the helm.

"Clintonville has a sound ball club," Carl said, "and a very good backfield. They rely on ball control and each of the starting backs is a very capable rusher. They're sound fundamentally and very stingy on defense. I anticipate a real fine ball game."

"Not Hard to Get Up"

On the other hand, Truckers Coach Tony Ellis, now in his 24th season at Clintonville, pointed out, "It won't be hard for us to get up for this game. This is the third straight time the Neenah-Clintonville game has meant the championship. Unless something happens in the practice this week, we should be at peak physical condition with no injuries to speak of."

"Our prime objective will be to stop Neenah's fast halfbacks."

Badgers' Burt Remains Seventh

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck Burt of Wisconsin remained seventh this week in passing among major college football players.

Bill Anderson of Tulsa, a former defensive back who threw only one pass while Jerry Rhorne was leading the Golden Hurricanes last year, tops the nation in both passing and total offense.

Anderson has hit 163 of 283 passes of 1,919 yards. Second in completions is Bob Griese of Purdue, with 103 of 166 for 1,238 yards. Burt has connected on 30 of 161 for 743 yards.

Don Heffner Says He'll Not be 'Book Manager' In New Cincinnati Job

Selected by Old Boss, DeWitt, as Sisler's Successor

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — I wasn't a 'book' player and I'm not a 'book' manager," is how Don Heffner describes the way he is going to manage the Cincinnati Reds' baseball team.

The 54-year-old Heffner, who once played second base on the same New York Yankees' team as Babe Ruth was named to the job Tuesday. He succeeds Dick Sisler, who was dismissed as manager on Oct. 4 after the Reds folded in the final week and ended the season in fourth place.

Heffner's new boss is an old friend, Reds' President-General Manager Bill DeWitt, who gave him his first minor league manager's job in 1947 with the St. Louis Browns' organization. Heffner had been a coach with the New York Mets for the last two seasons. He has a two year contract with the Reds at an undisclosed salary.

"There are times to gamble and there are times to be conservative," said the pipe-smoking Heffner, discussing his baseball strategy.

"Take this situation your lead-off man in the first inning hits a double down either line and everybody in the park knows it's a sure double. I'll settle for the double and don't believe in having the man try to stretch it into three unless it's obvious that he can go into third base standing up."

If there were one out when the batter hit the double, he would send the man on to third. Heffner added.

Had Critics

As far as changing pitchers is concerned — an issue on which Sisler had his critics — the new manager had this to say: "It all depends on the individual and the situation. Certain pitchers, the ones who are likely to crack under pressure, you lift pretty quick. Others, the battling and gutsy type who seems to fight harder when things get rough, you keep in there."

He added it's his job to find out which is which among the Reds' pitching staff — the staff that failed to live up to its pre-season billing as the best in the National League.

Some of the Reds players are quite familiar to Heffner from the time he managed in San Diego in 1962 and 1963. These include pitchers Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis, both of them 20-game winners last season; outfielder Tommy Harper and infielders Deron Johnson and Tommy Helms.

In disclosing Heffner's appointment at a news conference, DeWitt said he had talked to about six other candidates for the job. Heffner's name as the next Cincinnati manager was mentioned several times during the World Series, but both he and DeWitt said they came to terms only Monday.

Heffner — known as Jeep in his playing days — was born Feb. 8, 1911, at Rouzerville, Pa. He broke into the majors in 1934 with the Yankees, and after four seasons moved on to St. Louis where DeWitt was then vice president-general manager. Later he played for Philadelphia and Detroit in the American League.

In 1947 Heffner became manager of the Aberdeen team, which he promptly led to a Northern League pennant. He won other minor league pennants with Miami-Globe, Ariz., and the San Diego Padres.

Before becoming manager of the Reds' former Pacific Coast League affiliate, Heffner also served as a coach for the Kansas City Athletics and the Detroit Tigers.

Vike Harriers Lose, 20-35, To Pointers

The Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point cross country team, led by the record-breaking performance of Dale Roe, beat Lawrence University, 20-35, on Whiting Field Tuesday.

Roe established a new 4-mile mark of 22-minutes 1.5-seconds, snapping the old standard of 22:29. Teammates Paul La Mere and Dave Jacoby placed second and third, nosing out Lawrence's Henry Kaiser.

Other Lawrence finishers were Steve Sedgwick, sixth; Mike Barrash, seventh; Wayne Draeger, eighth; John Howe, 10th and Art Van Dusen, 11th.

Wolverines Improving Despite 4-Game Loss String; Defense Sharp

By BERNIE KENNEDY
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)— And to top it all off, halfback Carl Ward was ejected from the game after slugging a Minnesota player after the whistle. It's pretty hard to play a game and carry a four-game losing streak into Saturday's game on the sidelines, coach Bump Elliott said.

It's easy to find excuses for failure, but the Wolverines had a couple of good ones in their past two games. Minnesota last week. For one, tackle Bill Yearby, against the likes of Purdue and the other two-way play quarterback Bob Griese and number one end, the Wolverines have come up with ease. He's expected to be ready for Griese's usually favorite target, downs.

to three receptions for 30 yards. Last week, Hankinson, who holds almost all of Minnesota's passing records, threw only 12 times, completing three and having two intercepted.

One of Michigan's early problems was that of trying to find a replacement at quarterback for All America Bob Timberlake.

Elliott waited five games before deciding on Wally Gabler. Gabler, with only five minutes of game time under his belt, won the job from Dick Vidmer by displaying running as well as passing ability.

The Gophers intercepted a pass Saturday, marking the first time in 70 attempts that a Gabler aerial fell into enemy hands.

Georgia Tech's Eastman Cited Safetyman Named 'Back of Week' in College Ball

NEW YORK (AP)— It was here after his graduation from Michigan State and in recent years operator of an insurance agency, played on Spartan teams coached by Charley Bachman and later Biggie Munn, now NSU athletic director. He threw 11 touchdown passes in 1943.

coach Jim Carlen said of Eastman's performance in the Yellow Jackets' 37-16 victory over Navy Saturday.

What the 5-foot-10, 153-pound Eastman did was return a punt 36 yards for a touchdown, recover a fumble, intercept two passes and deflect three others, make nine tackles and contributing 32 of 55 passes for 451 yards and six touchdowns. He also scored once and threw a pair of two-point conversion passes.

Glick, Former MSU Star, Dies

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)— Gene Glick, 37, quarterback and star passer of Michigan State football teams in the late 1940s, collapsed and died Tuesday while playing paddleboard at the YMCA. A heart attack was believed the cause of death.

Glick, a high school coach here after his graduation from Michigan State and in recent years operator of an insurance agency, played on Spartan teams coached by Charley Bachman and later Biggie Munn, now NSU athletic director. He threw 11 touchdown passes in 1943.

Hortonville's Harriers Win League Title Darrell Suchomei, Reedsville, Takes Individual Crown

NEW LONDON — Hortonville High School won the third annual Little Nine Conference cross country meet over the New London Golf Course Tuesday.

The Polar Bears, coached by John Amburgy, totaled 39 points to outdistance runnerup Reedsville (56). Other team totals were Denmark 71, Winneconne 90 and Shiocton 100.

Reedsville's Darrell Suchomei was the individual winner, nosing out Winneconne's Mel Dobbe by one second. Suchomei was clocked in 10-minutes 51-seconds.

The remainder of the top 10, from 11th through 15th were Al Jim Rønner, Denmark; Keith Wagner, Denmark; Pete Boh-day at Presbyterian-University Horn, Shiocton; Don Delzer, man, Hortonville; Jim O'Toole, Hortonville; Quentin Schultz, Hortonville and Gene Stelzer, Reedsville; Ron Schmude, Win-

Iowa's Burns Has Resigned, Says Sportscaster

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)— There was no comment from official sources today about a broadcast report that Jerry Burns has submitted his resignation as football coach of the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Burns was still at the helm as the Hawks drilled secretly Tuesday for ways to end a four-game losing streak.

Sportscaster Bob Reynolds for radio station WJR at Detroit, Mich., said Tuesday evening that he had information that Burns submitted his resignation after last Saturday's 9-0 loss to Northwestern at Evanston, Ill. game. Iowa is winless in four Big Ten games this season.

Slate Deer Shoot In Kaukauna

A deer shoot for rifle shooters will be held Sunday at the Kaukauna Trap and Skeeet Club. Starting time is 2 p.m.

The target will be a deer placed atop a 100-foot tower. The grand prize will be $100. Additional cash awards will also be made.

The shoot is open to the public. The club is situated one mile north of Kaukauna at the corner of Maloney road and county trunk JJ. Lunch will be available on the grounds, and a television set in the clubhouse will be tuned to the Packer Northwestern at Evanston, Ill. game.

Stargell to Undergo Surgery on Right Knee

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)— Outfielder Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates is to undergo surgery on his right knee Friday at Presbyterian-University Hospital.

He is expected to be hospitalized for about a week.

Snow Tires Plow Through Winter's Deepest Drifts

Every ALLSTATE snow tire has been engineered and tested to crush snow drifts and dig deep for traction to keep you going.

They Cling To Wet, Slushy and Snow-Packed Roads For Dear Life

Every snow tire tread has been tested and retested for its ability to grab and hold. Grooves are extra deep, ribs are extra wide and sides have more edges to keep more working tread on the road. You start faster, stop quicker, too.

They Glide Along Superhighways

Sears remembers that most of a snow tire's life is spent on dry pavement between snowfalls. Sears builds snow tires so they can be ridden at sustained high speeds.

They're So Quiet Too

No snow tire is noiseless, but Sears snow tires are built to sharply reduce thumping and grumbling sounds.

ALLSTATE Passenger Tire Guarantee

TRADE LIFE GUARANTEE AGAINST ALL FAILURES

Every ALLSTATE tire is guaranteed against all failures from road hazards or defects for the life of the original tread. If tire fails, we will, at our option—repair it without cost, or, in exchange for the tire, we will replace it charging only for tread wear (charge will be a pro-rata share of exchange price).

We guarantee tread life for the number of months designated. If tread wears out within this period, return it in exchange, we will replace it charging the current exchange price, less a set dollar allowance.

Exchange Price is regular retail price plus Federal Excise Tax less trade-in at time of return (no trade-in deduction on show tires).

Use of Federal Milk Quota Concerns PMPC

BY RAY PAGEL
Post-Crescent News Service
FOND DU LAC — Cautious satisfaction with the dairy title of the omnibus farm bill was expressed at the annual meeting first time of the Pure Milk Products Co-operative here Tuesday. Under the farm bill, federal Cooperative here Tuesday, an order areas now are authorized to be 1,000 delegates to consider Class I bases, or guests and members at Roosevelt. A two-thirds majority of votes would be required. Federal delegates indicated some fear orders in addition could be that quotas might be established on manufacturing milk on Class I milk in Federal. William C. Eckles, PMPC Order areas without specific managers, said. The Department of Agriculture is considering the implications of purchase dairy products on the limiting access to markets open market, if necessary, to through quotas, and the ex-fill commitments for domestic programs. In the past, only stocks bought under price supports were available. PMPC, he noted, had a hand in getting this provision, as well as desirable safeguards in the Class I base plan. Criticize Administration Administration of the federal from $10 to $15 a day. Eckles said another section milk order program was sharply criticized. Some areas are bers had marketed some 2.3 billion pounds of milk. For this ers are mistreated, it was charged. Less competition, more coop- year, the average marketing per member was $7.825 pounds of milk. Eckles said. The financial report presented by Treasurer Clarence Hamann, Columbus, showed income of $388,693 for the fiscal year, most of it in checkoff payments by members. Operating income was a healthy $111,905. Dairy product imitations and substitutes were rapped in a resolution submitted by the directors. Name Brown Player of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — This has to be Jim Brown Week. The Cleveland fullback has been making news every day juggling a football, talking about retirement, signing to handle a fight telecast in Toronto. Or just talking about Jim Brown and the Browns.

Brown's tremendous performance Sunday against the New York Giants was enough to earn Associated Press recognition as the offensive player of the week in the National Football League.

Jim had plenty of competition. Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins hit with 12 of 14 passes, the last 10 in a row, in leading his mates to an upset victory over Philadelphia.

Fran Tarkenton scrambled and set a career record of 407 yards passing by completing 21 of 35 in the wild Minnesota-San Francisco game. Rudy Bakich had a hot hand for the Chicago Bears. John Elway did it again for Baltimore, throwing three Ellis appended.

Ellis opens with Tom Richardson at quarterback, co-captain Tom Werner and Chuck Bate at halves and Chuck Burg at full. Other stalwarts on the roster include Ron Buelow, Roy Hedtke, Jim Stuck, Al Mahnke, Mike Moreland and Jerry Schmidt.

Carl generally employs a platoon system, whereas the Rockets rely on at least six men to go both offensively and defensively.

Neenah, Clintonville 48 pt.

Neenah's offensive line includes, from end to end, Jim Burton, Rick Bondow, Greg Nash, Rick Sommer, Jim Fellers, Tim Meyer and Mark Larson.

Probable defensive starters for the Rockets will be Pete Van Airdale, Jim Smith, Gary Muttart, Jim Zeimert, Dave Wollerman, and James Fox in the line. The linebackers are Dan Jankowski, Norm Bauman and Tim Blank. Jim Koepke and Mike Malone are the safeties.

Both Favored

Kaukauna and Kimberly, both favored in weekend games, appear headed for a tie for third place. The Ghosts' Bob Promer literally ran wild in a 34-0 win over Kimberly Saturday. Promer romped for 220 yards unofficially in just 32 trips. In addition, the burly Ghost back scored all five touchdowns.

Another battle royal looms in Menasha where the up-and-down Bulldogs invade the Jays' Calder Field at 1:30 p.m. Menasha will be hoping to salvage the season with a victory. The Jays have lost four straight after launching the season with three wins.

Clintonville's Werner and Richardson share fifth place in the individual scoring race with 30 points, behind Rasmussen, Milliken and Promer. Next in line are Menasha's Dan Hoks, Kaukauna's Lee Nimmer and New London's Henry Linke, with 24, while Rocket place-kicker Dan Jankowski has 23.

Kimberly Archery Classes Slated

KIMBERLY — Kimberly Recreation archery classes for cadets and juniors will be held at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. Senior archers will take over the range at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Chris Wildenberg and Elmer Grumm are in charge of the program.

Tennessee Man Sets Endurance Driving Record

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Ray Trail, 24, former star guard at Arkansas, was hired Monday as an assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee.

AP's Liska Predicts Michigan Will Defeat Wisconsin '11'

BY JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — It will be tricks or treats this Halloween. That clubbing of Southern Cal's weekend, but probably more tricks than treats boiling in the midweek football cauldron.

The Old Prognosticator, with an improving season record of 31-12 for 721, dons the garb of a howling Spook and communicates.

Michigan State 24, Northwestern 7 — The No. 1 Spartans must avoid tripping over their own reputation. A healthy Northwestern club could cause trouble, but the Wildcats are lacking star runners Ron Rector and Woody Campbell and key interior linemen.

Ohio State 14, Minnesota 7 — After all these years, it's the first coaching showdown between OSU's Woody Hayes and Minnesota's Murray Warmath. The Gophers will feel lonesome in that Big Buckeye bowl.

Purdue 18, Illinois 13 — Figure Ohio State and was restored to the Boilermakers by burning the starting backfield in Coach after that close setback by the Milt Bruhn's latest lineup rallying Spartans. It'll be Bob shuffle.

Grise's passing against potent Illinois running Purdue's defense is tough and Grise is the nation's No. 2 tosser.

Michigan 13, Wisconsin 7 — The apparently dethroned Wolf No. 1 defensive left end ahead vermes are due to beat some of the tenacious Badgers have the nation's seventh best passer in straight game. No. 2 wingback quarterback Chuck Burt.

Iowa 14, Indiana 7 — It's time for the buffeted Hawkeyes to end a string of nine Big Ten defeats.

Notre Dame 21, Navy 13 — That clubbing of Southern Cal's formula could catch the Irish smug and open for a Middle broadside. Navy ISN'T forcing last season's 40-0 drubbing by Notre Dame at Philadelphia.

Jesse Kaye to Start for UW At Halfback

MADISON (AP) — No. 2 quarterback Jesse Kaye was back at starting left halfback today as the Wisconsin Badgers prepared for their invasion of the Big Ten championship Michigan Saturday.

Kaye, dismissed from the last season's team after a dismal performance early in the season, gained 73 yards on the ground in the 20-10 loss to Ohio State and was restored to the starting backfield in Coach Bruhn's latest lineup.

Nate Jenkins will start at defensive right tackle in place of Tom Donnes, who moved to starting defensive middle guard.

Warren Dyer was promoted to the defensive left end ahead of Rodger Alberts.

Fullback Gale Bucciarrelli will apparently miss his third straight game. No. 2 wingback Chuck Koch was on the uncertain list with a hip injury suffered in practice.

Bukich Leads NFL Passers, Starr Fifth

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League's leading passer will be in action in the Green Bay game again this weekend, but this time it won't be the Packers' Bart Starr.

Rudy Bukich, a perennial second-stringer until he came to Bay four games back to free the Bears' renewed surge of success, will carry the No. 1 rank as he guides the Bears to three straight victories against the Packers here Sunday.

Bukich has hit 66 of 108 passers in the latest NFL statistics after the veteran Green Bay passer was able to complete only four of 19 tosses in a 13-3 victory over Dallas and lost 10 more yards in backfield fumbles than he gained in his passing.

Starr, NFL leader two of the last three seasons, fell to fifth behind Bukich, Johnny Unitas of Baltimore, John Brodie of San Francisco and the injured

AP Selects Twilley as Top Lineman

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa end Howard Twilley and his battery mate, quarterback Billy Anderson, are a couple of perfectionists who won't be satisfied as long as some passes miss the mark.

"Twilley, named Lineman of the Week for his performance last Saturday in Tulsa's 49-6 win over Cincinnati, was still disgruntled over the one he missed when informed of the honor.

"I'm surprised I got it," he said, shaking his head slowly from side to side. "Did you see the one I missed?"

The miss that upset the Gale-na Park, Tex., senior brought a gasp from the crowd and the comment, "Well, now we know he's human," from a Cincinnati sports writer.

On Finger Tips

"I had it on my finger tips but my knee hit it when I started to bring it in," Twilley said. "I'd have had it if I had dived."

"I really hate to miss a pass," he added. "It's such a long way back to the huddle."

Randolph Takes Over Top Spot In the 'Little 10'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Oshkosh, Milwaukee Boys' Tech and Milwaukee Don Bosco remain 1-2-3 in the Associated Press "Big Ten" Wisconsin high school football poll, but upsets have scrambled the standings in the rankings for the state's smaller schools.

Greenwood, on top of the "Little Ten" since the poll of state sports writers began seven weeks ago, was upset 41-20 by Thorp and fell from first into an eighth place tie.

Taking over the leadership of the small schools was Randolph (8-0) which defeated Sheboygan 20-12 and finished its season unbeaten.

But the status quo was maintained in the "Big Ten," as Oshkosh (7-0) defeated Sheboygan South 20-0 and earned 134 points, getting 12 first place votes of 14 cast.

Points are awarded, on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.

Boys' Tech (6-0) overcame Milwaukee Riverside 32-0 and an enduring jinx to remain in second place with 108 points.

Tech became the first team in six weeks to hold on to the runnerup spot for longer than one week.

Don Bosco (7-0) knocked off Milwaukee Jordan 7-0 Sunday to preserve its third place spot and drop Jordan (7-1) from ninth place out of the elite.

Menomonee (6-2) was the only other "Big Ten" casualty, falling from 10th place out of the rankings as it lost to Wausau (6-2) 26-0.

Pelot (4-1-1) and Wisconsin Rapids Assumption (6-0-1) joined the top 10. Beloit took the measure of Kenosha Trem-played, the Lakers came from per 26-6 and gained eighth place behind and edged the New York while Assumption drubbed Stevens Point Pacelli 41-12 and Angeles. The victory was the Lakers' 14th straight over the Knicks at home.

The Detroit Pistons, rocked by early injuries to three key players and then rattled by the deadly shooting of ex-teammate Don Ohl, have slipped into the National Basketball Association's Western Division cellar.

Ohl, traded from Detroit to Baltimore after the 1963-64 season, sparked the visiting Bullets to a 117-98 romp over the crippled Pistons Tuesday night with a 27-point barrage.

In the only other game played, the Lakers came from behind and edged the New York Knickerbockers 104-102 in Los Angeles. The victory was the Lakers' 14th straight over the Knicks at home.

South Dakota Reprimanded For Recruiting

CHICAGO (AP) — South Dakota State University was reprimanded and censured by the NCAA Council Tuesday for basketball recruiting violations.

The announcement was made by Art Bergstrom, assistant to NCAA Director Walter Byers, following the second day of a part-time middle guard and line-three-day meeting by the council.

At the same time, Bergstrom said Navy, Texas and Miami, Fla., were restored to full rights and privileges following one year or probation.

Navy and Texas had been put down for football recruiting violations, and Miami had been found guilty of violating basketball recruiting rules.

The light penalty against South Dakota State resulted from the school's quick action in the case. The school investigated charges that the basketball coach recruited a junior college athlete and provided him with cash to pay off a debt.

Despite Wooden Leg, Aston Competes on College Gridiron

CHEYNEY, Pa. (AP) — get about it." Opposing players When Ray Aston was in the 11th grade in high school, he broke his leg in a football game. He lost his right leg in a railroad accident when he was 12. But the time he reached the eighth grade, he was wrestling in high school. "The coach said, 'Sure you can play, but you get no special favors,'" Aston relates. That was the way I wanted it."

Coach Stevenson says Aston has a "competitive heart."

Fighting Near Saigon Kills 101 Viet Cong

Mop Up Operations at Plei Me Continued by American Military Men

SAIGON, South Viet Nam 210 miles northeast of Saigon. (AP) — While U.S. troops fanned out around Plei Me in mop up operations, a toll of 101 Viet Cong dead was claimed today in fighting only 20 miles northwest of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman reported the heavy Communist casualties were suffered in an attack by an estimated two battalions of Viet Cong on a Vietnamese ranger battalion camped at Duc Lap.

Government casualties were termed moderate. American advisers with the rangers suffered light casualties, but all returned to duty after treatment, the spokesman said.

The Viet Cong hit the ranger camp at Duc Lap last June and again last month. The attack early today followed the same pattern — a barrage by mortars and small arms and then an assault on the camp.

Fight Back
The rangers fought back, and artillery and air assaults were made quickly on the attackers. The spokesman credited the repulse of the attack and the high Viet Cong casualties to coordination of ground and air fire power.

At Plei Me, airborne American cavalrymen landed and swept south to clear out the last Communist stronghold threatening the special forces camp.

36 Killed as British Plane Crashes in Fog

Accident Occurs After Two Attempts To Land Aircraft

LONDON (AP) — A British domestic airliner exploded in flames on its third attempt to land in shuffling fog at London Airport early today, killing all 36 persons aboard.

"We could see a sheet of flame which seemed to stretch the length of the runway," said one airport employee. "We could see people among the flames but they were obviously dead."

The plane, a four-engine Vanguard turboprop designed to carry 139 passengers, was landing at 1:23 a.m. after a flight from Edinburgh, Scotland. Operated by British European Airways, it carried 30 passengers, one child, and a crew of 6.

The airline said it was believed all aboard were British.

Vatican Council Ends Voting on Religious Liberty

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today completed piecemeal voting on its religious liberty declaration, reportedly approving all parts of the historic document by big majorities.

The highest number of bishops opposing any one of the first six sections of the declaration was 228, a tenth of the prelates assembled in St. Peter's.

Council spokesmen announced the results of votes on these six sections and said five remaining ballots were taken but not counted before the day's meeting ended. Sources said, however, the pattern set in the first ballots was sure to have carried through in all the rest.

The document, now over its major hurdles, will be ready for proclamation as a decree of the Roman Catholic Church after a last over-all vote that will follow further slight revision of the declaration.

Revision was made necessary because many bishops expressed reservations while voting approval of certain sections of the document. However, this revision was expected to be minimal, allowing for completion of the document next month.

Some Hopes Raised

Wilson Meets With African Nationals

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson held his first meeting today with Rhodesia's African nationalists and heard their side of this country's independence crisis.

The meeting took place as a proposal by the white-ruled Rhodesian government to insure the political future of Africans raised some slight hopes of a solution of the crisis caused by Rhodesia's threat to declare independence from Britain.

Wilson met Joshua Nkomo, restricted leader of the banned Zimbabwe African Peoples Union. Nkomo was brought to the Rhodesian capital by plane from his detention camp at Gonaakudzingwa in a remote region near the Mozambique border. Nkomo is believed to have the largest following in Rhodesia of any African nationalist.

Authorizes Flight
Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith, whose government restricted Nkomo, authorized the flight at Wilson's request.

About 2,000 Africans gathered around Government House as Nkomo arrived and many danced and shouted, "One man, one vote!"

A heavy police guard was posted on the grounds. Reporters saw police dogs bite several Africans after a black tried to

15,000 in Demonstration In Indonesia

Deputy Premier New Target of Activities in Jakarta

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — First Deputy Premier Subandrio has become a target of anti-Communist demonstrators in Jakarta.

Some 15,000 persons marched on the Foreign Ministry Tuesday with a resolution attacking Red China and the Indonesian Reds and demanding that "firm action" be taken against Subandrio — who also is foreign minister — if his charges that some anti-Communist papers are backed by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency prove untrue.

Subandrio, President Sukarno's chief aide and a leading Communist sympathizer, made the charges during the weekend. After army-controlled papers took issue with him, Subandrio withdrew the charges.

Demonstrators carried banners and shouted "Ban the PKI!" The Indonesian Communist party.

The demonstration by some 50 political organizations had obviously been approved by the army despite Sukarno's demand for an end to demonstrations. Jakarta has been under martial law since the army put down the Sept. 30 coup against Sukarno.

Over Sukarno's objections, the army has been carrying out an intensive anti-Communist campaign.

McNamara Says He Won't Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has relayed a denial: he hasn't talked with President Johnson about resigning.

The statement came after a syndicated news column reported Tuesday that the Defense Department chief had told the President he planned to return to private life by the end of the year.

More Shy Witnesses Appear Before House Klan Hearings

Investigators Testify About Super-Secret KKK Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fled as No. 100 in the Raleigh House Committee on Un-American Activities questioned another reluctant witness today about Ku Klux Klan activities in North Carolina. It got no answers.

George Franklin Dorsett, 46, Klansmen and about a wave of who the committee said is from cross burnings across the state. Greensboro, N.C., refused to say even where he was born. He followed the pattern of a number of earlier Klan witnesses in declining to answer questions.

Presiding at today's hearing was Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., substituting for Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La.

From its own investigators, the committee heard Tuesday ray of offices—imperial kladd, about a Klan unit so secret that Klan members are not allowed to level: grand titan, head of the Klan in a congressional district. The top security unit was identified as No. 100 in the Raleigh area.

But witnesses declined to testify about the unit, and refused answers also to questions about possible sources of firearms for Klansmen and about a wave of cross burnings across the state.

One of those who invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination and gave the committee nothing but his name was Robert E. Hudson, chief investigator Donald T. Appell described him in questioning as a Klansman who had been named to an imposing array of offices—imperial kladd, about a Klan unit so secret that Klan members are not allowed to level: grand titan, head of the Klan in a congressional district. The top security unit was identified as No. 100 in the Raleigh area.

Top Two Spots

Longer Terms for State Get Boost

MADISON (AP) — The state Legislature has given another boost to the drive to extend terms of Wisconsin's top elected officials from two to four years.

Senators approved a constitutional amendment Tuesday that would make the change for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state and state treasurer.

To become effective, the amendment still must be passed by the 1967 Legislature and receive approval in a public vote.

Earlier in the session, both houses passed a four-year term amendment that would put candidates for governor and lieutenant governor on the same ballot. The combination would stop the political split that has existed between the officers for the last six years.

PKU Tests
The Assembly completed legislative action on a bill establishing mandatory testing for phenylketonuria (PKU) in the newborn.

The measure, which still requires the governor's signature, would have the State Board of Health prescribe tests and name laboratories that would diagnose the form of mental retardation.

Parents objecting to tests on newborn grounds would be exempt from the law's provisions.

The Assembly also passed a bill that would enable counties to zone all navigable water bodies in unincorporated areas.

Assemblyman Norman Anderson, D-Madison, said the legislation was needed to "help preserve shorelines of the state from unwise developments."

The Senate confirmed a total of 13 appointments by the governor and got into a squabble over seven of them named to the State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

Appointees were former Gov. Walter J. Kohler Jr. of Appleton, Kenneth Crowell of Menasha, Harold Konnak of Racine, William Krause of Stevens Point, Frank H. Ranney of Milwaukee, Dore Smith of Wisconsin Rapids and C. O. Wauvick Jr. of Milwaukee.

Other appointees confirmed were:

Collision of Car, Truck Takes Lives of Three

Waukesha County, Park Falls Deaths Boost Toll to 821

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons were killed early today in a car-truck collision in Waukesha County. Their deaths, together with that of a schoolteacher who was killed in a separate mishap, raised Wisconsin's highway toll for the year to 821 compared with 805 on this date a year ago.

Killed in a collision about 1:30 a.m. today at the intersection of Highways 36-45 and Waukesha County 00 were Robert Walter Lucas and Thomas Fischer, both 18 and from Waukegan, Ill., and Ernest Hall, 38, route 1, Lake Mills.

Authorities said Lucas and Fischer were riding in a car that was involved in a collision with a cement truck driven by Hall. The truck loaded with powdered cement overturned.

Death of Teacher
Mrs. John Straetz, 42, Glendora, was hurried to her death Tuesday in the collision of a semi-trailer truck and the car in which she was riding. The accident happened as she and another teacher were returning home on a newly opened stretch of Highway 13 north of Park Falls where they taught.

A charge of homicide by intoxicated operator of a motor vehicle was filed Tuesday against Herman Weber, 51, Superior, in the traffic death Sunday night of a pedestrian about 65 years old. Superior police said the victim remained unidentified Tuesday night.

Continue Bombing, Iowa Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper cautioned today against any halt in U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam.

"When you are going forward, it's no time to stop," the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's senior Republican said in an interview.

Hickenlooper thus dissented from the committee chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who called Sunday for a lengthy cessation as a means of sounding out North Viet Nam on the possibility of negotiation.

Congress Groans if Given 'Short' Vacation

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has come to expect a vacation of two or three months, in 1962 on Oct. 13, and in 1961 on Sept. 27. This was a highly productive session with perhaps no Congress — President Johnson called it "fabulous" and it was more than a month off at most. Thus the moans and groans probably the greatest producer about fatigue and overwork and in American history — but this the need for rest coming from very fact raises a question. Why should such production be politics in legislation except under Johnson. But it's an unhappy reflection of all presidents in the peace-time session was ever bombast and oratory and stall-time only in times of national emergency and instead of voting as peril or when prodded, driven by parties, lined up for or against a and guided by a strong presiding piece of legislation on its merit. There have been few Congresses in this century were in the depression days when President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal was with political parties, there will trying to avoid disaster and now perhaps in emergency. Political Genius Johnson, the most experienced of all presidents in the

State Head Assures Valley District Vocational School

Area Ready With Building Program to Get Financial, Program Consideration First

"The Greater Fox Cities area vocational school district will be designated a regional vocational school district without question and any area ready with a building program will be given financial as well as program consideration first," according to Clarence Greiber, director of the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education. Greiber spoke at the 10th joint meeting of the representatives of the five Fox Cities vocational schools Tuesday evening at Kimberly High School.

schools fulfill all of these requirements now. The new law provides that all areas within the created district will support the district financially. A tax rate of up to $2 per thousand of equalized value can be assessed on all property. Greiber noted that one of the purposes of the new law is to provide equal opportunities to all state residents. "At the present time, more than 50 per cent of the state's population lives in areas without such schools," he said. "And these people have been paying taxes which support the existing vocational schools since about 1911," he added. State May Act If all the state is not in districts by 1970, new legislation may be enacted to have a state agency set up boundaries, he said. So far, Appleton, Kimberly, and Menasha boards of vocational and adult education have expressed desire to proceed with the development of an area Fox Cities area school are being pre-empted by other schools in the general area and will probably not be available if we wait longer," he concluded. The new law calls for an 80 per cent subsidy of cost of teaching of technical and vocational subjects. When school districts, municipalities (cities, villages, or counties) or any combination apply for creation of a district, the Coordinating Committee for the Higher Education must give final approval. If there is little or no progress in creating the districts through voluntary means, the committee may draw the districts, Greiber said. "Programs that should logically be in the curriculum of a said

This is the third time since the joint deliberations began 18 months ago that the state director has attended and has explained the recently enacted law calling for area vocational schools to be created throughout the state by 1970. Greiber also outlined the areas of responsibility that are required for a well-rounded program. Well-Rounded Program These include an apprentice day program, an adult education extension in general, an adult education preparatory extension day program, a post high school vocational technical day program, and guidance and counseling. Appeal Denied In Auto Case

Tipsy Driving Count Referred Back to County Court

Following denial of a motion for continuance, the appeal of Robert Angell, 23, 528 Woodlawn Court, Combined Locks, charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, was dismissed and referred back to Outagamie County Court Branch 2. Angell was arrested by Kimberly police Oct. 17, 1964, and was found guilty following a court trial in County Court on March 24, 1965. He was fined $150 and costs.

In examination of the Circuit Court jury Monday afternoon, it was found that one of the jurors knew Angell, having met him in a bar. The defense contended that the response by the juror tainted the entire jury panel and Angell could not receive a fair trial. Angell's attorney then moved for continuance of the case to the next term of Circuit Court. Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell denied the request and ordered an immediate trial. However, on failure of the defense attorney to further participate in the trial, Dist. Atty Nick F. Schaefer moved to dismiss the appeal and the case was referred back to County Court.

Soil Survey Grant Awarded To Plans Group

Two Federal Agencies to Pay 83 Pct. of Cost

A $12,500 Housing and Home Finance Agency planning grant for a soil survey has been given to the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, according to Eugene Franchett, commission director. The remaining 50 per cent cost of the $25,000 project will be paid by the Soil Conservation Service of the federal Department of Agriculture and the commission. The commission's share of the cost is approximately $4,300, or 17 per cent of the total, Franchett said. Preliminary investigation has been underway since July 1. Purpose of the survey is to provide the commission with complete soil mapping and analysis of soils in the region to serve as a guide in development of the region. When completed, the survey will furnish information as to what the best uses are for the soil, such as recreation, structures, sewage systems, septic tanks, Franchett said. The project had been approved earlier, but had been delayed because of lack of funds.

Appleton Council Delays Action On 4-Year Terms

A concerted drive to increase terms of Appleton's elective officials from two to four years bogged down in the common council Monday night. The matter never came to a vote, although several aldermen said they had made up their minds, and was referred to a special committee for study and a report.

Because changing the terms of office would have to be done by charter ordinance — a lengthy procedure — chances appear slim for any revisions taking place before 1967.

Time Requirements In order to have terms lengthened in time to take effect before the 1966 spring election, the council would have to approve the proposal by Nov. 3. Any delay after that would make it impossible for the order to be declared void," Ponath council to meet time requirements as specified by law in adopting a charter ordinance. After passage of the charter ordinance by the council, a 60-day waiting period is required to give citizens an opportunity to petition for a referendum.

Offices which would be affected by the proposed term extension include those of the mayor, city clerk, treasurer, assessor, city attorney and aldermen.

Supreme Court Ruling Was Basis For Bear Creek Attachment Denial

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 informed of the Circuit Court judgement. He explained he was not sure if the Outagamie County School Committee had been notified of the ruling, but said he was told the committee was in agreement with the stipulation before it was signed. "If the parties involved were not informed of the Circuit Court ruling in June 1964, I do not know the reason," Ponath said. He said it was not a mandatory to issue a notice of judgment in such a case.

Ponath, who as corporation counsel represents the joint school committee in action before the Outagamie County Circuit Court, said that court's decision was entered Oct. 21, 1964. A letter signed by Kenneth Poppy, coordinator of Cooperative Education Service Agency 8 and Outagamie County School Committee secretary, calling attention to a Nov. 8 meeting at New London, was sent out Oct. 19 (last week), Ponath said.

Knew of Ruling "This means that Waupaca officials knew about the Circuit Court ruling two days before the one-year time limit to reopen the case had elapsed," he explained. "They could have filed a petition to reopen the case before Oct. 21, but they did not," Ponath said. The corporation counsel said he is not in a position to say if costs also have been reduced, anything further can be done by the joint school committee in regard to the attachment order. "But, I can't see that reopening the case could possibly change anything," he said. Ponath indicated he will send budget.

last year. However, Payette said, the actual cost of administration is expected to drop from $96,000 in 1965 to $88,900 for the coming year. Funds contributed by the state and federal government towards the administration of the department is also expected to drop from $66,000 to $58,000, Payette said. One of the reasons for the drop in total cost of administration is that at the present time of one case worker supervisor are being handled by the director of the department. However, the director said, a case worker supervisor is now required by the state and as soon as a qualified person is available he will be added to the staff. A turnover of other staff before Oct. 21, but they did not. Members have resulted in sever- al who are now receiving a lower salary. Administration Cost of the surplus commodity program again is expected to be $9,000, the same as last year. This figure is not included in the total welfare department Ponath indicated he will send budget.

Certainly the whole nation is disappointed in the decision to postpone the Gemini 6 flight and what surely would be an exciting chase in space after an unmanned orbiting object. But the failure of the Agena should teach even the experienced space engineers and program directors something more about the immense problems of space exploration.

It is most fortunate that it was the Agena and not the Gemini 6 which had a serious malfunction after launching. There will be more investigations after it is determined, if it can be, exactly what caused the trouble. But it seems at this time that the failure to have test-fired the rockets was an appalling blunder. Certainly the utmost in time and attention must be given to the capsules containing passengers. But loss of the Agena meant an immense cost only for the experience of finding out that better preparations should be made.

This in itself is at least a lesson. The probes of space, many without precedent, raise so many problems that no part of the program can be neglected or passed over lightly.

Highway Bonding Stalled

When Assemblyman Nikolay of Clark County, the Democratic majority party quarterback in the Wisconsin assembly, consigned to a political refrigerator the other day the Republican state administration's highway construction acceleration bill, he said something about the need for further study of the proposition.

Mr. Nikolay has also expressed some hostility to the idea of creating a new state building corporation to issue the bonds for a bigger highway improvement program, which is the central and basic feature of the pending legislation. If the Democratic assembly spokesman was a newly elected member, or if this was a new proposal, such an appeal for further deliberative and study time would be reasonable and plausible. Coming from him, however, it utterly fails to convince.

Mr. Nikolay is by way of becoming a legislative veteran, as service in Wisconsin legislative halls is measured. He was a leading member of that body two years ago when Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds offered an essentially identical bonding plan to achieve a more rapid program of highway improvements. Democrats then backed it. His fellow Democrats were conspicuously listed among the authors of the bill requested by Gov. Knowles this year. The chairman of the assembly highways committee, presumably chosen with Mr. Nikolay's approval, is one of the ardent champions of the bonding program.

Lt. Gov. Lucey, the presumptive leader of the statehouse Democrats and the probable nominee for governor of Mr. Nikolay's party in 1966, is one of the most eager supporters of expanded highway construction through a moderate bonding program.

Mr. Nikolay, moreover, sits as one of the leading members of the state building commission, which has arranged for quasi-public corporation bonds for the financing of an enormous institution expansion and improvement program to which he has yet offered no objections that we can find on the record. Such debentures are identical in conception to those which are now suggested for the financing of essential capital improvements for the highway system.

It is reasonably evident that Mr. Nikolay's objections to the highway plan are not based on the merits of the proposal, but relate to its authorship and its potential value in the performance record of a Republican state administration led by Gov. Knowles who can be expected to seek a new term. Lt. Gov. Lucey has reportedly said publicly that he is aware also that if the highway program is authorized, Gov. Knowles will be a more formidable opponent in the contest for the governorship next year, but that he has been persuaded that it is his duty to support the merits of the proposal, nevertheless. We wish Mr. Nikolay could also put aside his partisan instincts, in the interest of expediting action on a major program that is as bi-partisan in conception, sponsorship and support as any other that has turned up in our state capitol lately.

Minor League Battle

Spain has been conducting a minor league type of harassment apparently aimed at getting some sort of an apology from Great Britain. The trouble is that those who are having a tough time from the fracas are the island residents of Gibraltar.

A year ago England extended to the colony a limited form of self government. Spain immediately protested that the 1713 Treaty of Utrecht, in which England had confirmed her control of Gibraltar which she had taken some nine years earlier, did not give England the right to dispose of the colony. For some reason Spain fears that Gibraltar will get full independence although nobody seems to be interested in it.

Spain now has been conducting a blockade of sorts. Tourists going from Spain to Gibraltar must wait at least 20 minutes per car at the border. Those going the other way take much longer because Spain has suddenly discovered that supposedly there is a lot of smuggling going on. Cars and passengers are thoroughly searched, there is red tape and rudeness. Small wonder that the number of cars per day has shrunk from a peak of 2,000 during the last open tourist season to about 48.

In addition, Spain permits no exports to Gibraltar except fresh fruits and vegetables. But even more uncomfortable has been the halting of what had been virtually an open border. No longer do Spaniards go to Gibraltar to shop or visit relatives or those on Gibraltar for vacations in Spain. The high rate of intermarriage also has naturally decreased.

England appears quite ready to assure Spain that independence is not intended but the British say the blockade and harassment must stop first. In the meantime, the people on Gibraltar are moving the other way — they have begun to press for complete integration with Great Britain similar to that enjoyed by the Channel Islanders. There really is a lot of discomfort and intrigue over what is essentially only hurt feelings.

Up-Dating City's Lighting

Beginning in 1966—and that's not too soon—the City of Appleton will put into motion a five-year program to upgrade the street lighting system on a city-wide basis.

Money for the first phase of the light fixture replacement program, recommended by the City Electrical Department with the cooperation of the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co., has been included in the proposed outlay budget for the coming year.

Several months ago Electrical Inspector

Joseph Schoenhaar informed the Common Council that while many new areas of the city had modern lighting, several others had outmoded fixtures and lacked adequate candlepower. He asked for permission and funds to make the necessary changes.

The Common Council is to be congratulated for seeing the light, or rather, the lack of it, recognizing that in addition to being a requisite for traffic safety a good lighting system can also be a deterrent to crime.

Motor Appeals to Soldier Vote

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 19, 1865.

Union soldiers, lately returned from fighting for the Union, you are asked to vote the Sham Democratic ticket, and, in so doing, to put power in the hands of a party in this State which persistently refused to extend to you the Right of Suffrage while you were saving your country by braving disease, death and every hardship on the tented field!

How can you do it?

You are asked to intrust with power every Rebel who hunted Union soldiers with bloodhounds, as these men sought to escape from cruel imprisonment — threatening them with horrible death by starvation, exposure and torture. You are asked to consign to perpetual vassalage and impotence the humble but loyal Blacks who sheltered them, fed them, concealed them and guided them on their way to Union lines.

Would it not be monstrous, black-hearted ingratitude to do this?

You are asked to sustain the party which maintains the rights of skulkers and deserters who ran away to Canada — often with their pockets full of bounty money. You are asked to proclaim their right to vote in defiance of the act of Congress which most righteously treats these sneaks as denationalized by their recreancy.

Family in Argentina Is Convinced That Che Guevara Is Dead in Cuba

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

An Argentine relative of Ernesto ("Che") Guevara, Cuba's No. 2 Red, privately tells me the unrevealed reactions and opinions of his family to the mystery of Guevara's disappearance, still not explained by Castro.

Taylor

The scene is Buenos Aires. And the source of the relative's revelations is Guevara's father.

The father's name is Ernesto to Guevara Lynch, an Irish name, oddly enough, as so many are in Latin America. He is a successful contractor born and reared in the Argentine capital, and he certainly is not a Communist. But he married a Communist, a Senorita de la Serna, a noticeable woman with big black eyes whom misfortune graced with the hairy face of an anarchistic bomb thrower.

Their son Ernesto impressed the family and neighbors as strange from the very beginning. His boyhood nickname among schoolmates was not "Che" it was "Loco," meaning "touched," and it fell on a boy who seemed stealthy when not stealing, fiery when not indolent, crass and cynical as he grew up, disoriented if not reckless.

NEVER PRACTICED MEDICINE

He was a good student, nevertheless, and entered the Medical School of the University of Buenos Aires. He never practiced medicine, but his medical knowledge greatly helped to solidify him with Castro and the guerrillas fighting in the Cuban mountains. He saved the lives of many.

"Che" drank up his mother's Communist doctrine like a thirsty desert and carried her zeal straight into the university. But he became discouraged. On a motorcycle tour through the southern Argentine lakes he decided to break away from Buenos Aires. To his father's dismay but with his mother's blessing he left for Chile.

There he married. And there he also divorced his wife. Communist-style — a simple "goodbye" — although he later brought her to Havana where he'd married a second wife.

"Che" was still unsettled anywhere when he met Castro in Mexico City and family pride burst out all over when he surfaced as a leader in Cuba.

His mother died four months ago. She died largely unperturbed. The son was so entrenched and had been on so many missions for Castro that his family was not alarmed at first when he was reported absent.

But as time passed and the mystery hit the headlines in Buenos Aires Senor Guevara tried to reach his son's wife in Havana. He finally got through to her on the telephone. All she said was: "Come here. Come here yourself. Come quickly!"

Argentina has no diplomatic relations with Castro's Cuba and Senor Guevara could not go.

Today he is convinced that "Che" is dead. He states that the family's search for some trace of him has gotten no place among all the people they secretly contacted in Cuba and elsewhere abroad.

When guerrilla fighting broke out in Argentina's mountains a few months ago the rumor swept the world that "Che" was in his native country, and it was claimed locally that he had come to Buenos Aires to visit his mother's tomb.

"The police were watching the tomb," he says. "They know 'Che' was not here. So does our family."

Within the family circle, Senor Guevara says that if Castro had dismissed his son, or "Che" had bolted, Castro would have castigated him long ago and certainly no later than his recent Havana broadcast. Or if Castro knew for sure that "Che" was dead he would say so and blame a crime on the United States, the Central Intelligence Agency or any convenient whipping boy — even if he had "Che" murdered himself.

"But suppose my son reappears?" the father asks. What could Castro say then? He says the spy services of the world are looking for my son. I do not think anybody in the world is looking for "Che" harder than Fidel Castro.

"No," the father insists. "he is dead. I do not know when he died, where or how he died. But he sent us clippings and wrote us often from Havana, and we have had not one word, no signal of any kind or a single message, since 'Che' vanished."

Wisconsin Report

Referendum Usually Is Last Resort of Frustrated Legislator

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — In the language of legislative politics, the proposal for an advisory referendum is a synonym for frustration.

Wyngaard

Time after time in the last few decades legislators have proposed referendum votes of the people as a last desperate tactic to prevail on an issue which cannot be resolved by the votes of the men and women elected to make the laws. Occasionally such referendum resolutions have been adopted, the popular votes have been polled, and the planned and desired results have been achieved. It may be that another example is in the making in the current proposition to submit to the advice of the citizen in the ranks the perennial and evidently otherwise insoluble controversy about the long-standing state embargo against free distribution and consumption of margarine, the hated competitor of Wisconsin butter.

The calculations of the authors of the referendum that they can prove the changed attitude of the Wisconsin people are probably correct. There is very little doubt that the consumer interest outweighs the producer interest on the issue, in a numerical test. The anti-oleo laws date from an era when the farmer reigned in Wisconsin politics. That period has long since passed.

THE BALANCE

The producer interest in such a contest is considerably broader than that represented by the votes of the men and women on the shrinking number of farms in the state. It would include the considerable number of retired agriculturists in the small towns and villages, the processing and distribution businesses associated with the dairy producer and dependent upon them, and perhaps even some otherwise urban-oriented persons sentimentally loyal to the agricultural environment of their youth. Nevertheless, it is a fair guess that in a straight test of sentiment, without other issues, personalities and partisan loyalties intervening, the electorate of Wisconsin would deliver a veto for the anti-margarine tax and licensing and prohibition laws if given the opportunity.

The more practical question confronting the supporters of "free trade" in Wisconsin is how to get the referendum proposition through the legislature. For the men who are sustaining the margarine embargo laws are as capable of estimating the consequences of a popular ballot on the question as are the sponsors. They are not likely to consent easily. With early adjournment of the legislature now in prospect, it will be a comparatively simple matter to sidetrack the referendum proposition.

THE CONTRAST

The idea of a referendum as an instrument of legislative compulsion has been employed with some frequency, but more often with the design of defeating a proposition than of enacting it. The referendum ordered on the Democratic-sponsored "Project 66" highway development plan two years ago is the best recent example.

Others in comparatively recent times resulted in the rejection of a soldiers' bonus plan and a statewide tax-supported television network. Sometimes the positions of the parties on referenda proposals are glaringly contradictory. This year, for example, influential voices have been heard demanding a new referendum on highway bonding while denouncing as pernicious another proposal to submit the difficult issue of housing discrimination to a vote of the people.

Many persons regard the advisory referendum as a distasteful default of responsibility that is constitutionally reposed in the elected legislature. Others are aware of the difficulties in popular education on the more complex issues and the dangers of distortion in the presentation of the question. A current proposal in the State Senate, by Sen. Roseleip of Darlington, suggests a referendum on the question of tolerating Communist speakers on the University campus. Many others would say that a more objective question would be on maintaining free speech there.

Strictly Personal

How Do You Address An Attorney General?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

One of the strange vagaries of the English language cropped up again last month, in a dialog between the U. S. Attorney General Katzenbach and the Attorney General's office of the State of Washington.

Harris

The knotty question confronting these legal eminences was, Should an Attorney General be addressed as "General"? The man from the State of Washington protested against the practice, saying, "I can think of no other title composed of several words which, when shortened, retains the modifier and omits what is modified."

The two members of the President's cabinet who are not addressed as "Mr. Secretary" are the Attorney General and the Postmaster General. What title of honor and position, then, should be applied to them? It does seem absurd to call them "General," but no less absurd to call them "Postmaster" and "Attorney," while their full titles are too long and cumbersome for ordinary use.

And what about the Consul General of a foreign country? Should he, too, be called "General"? That seems as silly as calling a Lieutenant Governor "Lieutenant," a Chief Justice "Chief," or a Provost Marshall "Provost."

In the case of the Vice President of the U.S., the handy word "Veep" was devised by Dear Alben, and rapidly became a boon to harried headline writers. This kind of shorthand — called an

"acronym," which is formed by using the initial letters of the words in a title — has been enormously useful in referring to such groups as UNESCO and NATO, and has even been adopted commercially by such companies as SOCONY and MONY.

As General — oops, Attorney General — Katzenbach pointed out, the modern word "Sheriff" comes from the medieval "shire reeve," who was the steward of the shire (or county), and the words were combined to make one new term.

Actually, the military title "General" is itself a shortening of the phrase "General Officer," but as at the other extreme of the military scale, the word "Private" is a shortening of the phrase, "Private Soldier."

Although the British have many more formal titles than we have, Americans seem fonder of spreading them around. In England, surgeons are referred to as plain "Mr.," not as "Dr.," while college teachers are not universally called "Professor," as they are here. What Mencken called "the use of the honorific" is widespread in American society, and men have been called "Colonel" all their lives who served for two months in a war 40 years before. Having no hereditary titles, we enjoy passing around new ones as we go along.

How's This for a Commuting Record?

LOUISVILLE (AP) — When R. G. Wilson retired, the airlines lost one of their most faithful customers.

He commuted between Louisville and New York every week for 16 years.

The routine started when Wilson was transferred to New York. His wife was ill at the time so he decided to fly back and forth between the two cities.

The airline gave him a good-bye party on his last flight.

Shelving of Morrissey Nomination Second Such Defeat for Kennedys

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The shelving of the judgeship appointment of Francis X. Morrissey is not the first time a Kennedy selection for the federal bench has been scotched.

Overlooked in the turbulent Morrissey fray was the refusal of the Senate Judiciary Committee to approve a federal district judge handpicked by then-Attorney General Robert Kennedy — now the junior Senator from New York.

His choice was Wisconsin National Committeeman David

Rabinovitz, who had vigorously supported Sen. John Kennedy against Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the state's super-heated 1960 pre-convention primary battle. Rabinovitz' appointment as federal judge was an out-and-out political reward by the Kennedys.

Senators William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., strongly favored James Doyle, leading Madison attorney and former U.S. Attorney. But he had one fatal drawback. He had supported the late Adlai Stevenson for the presidential nomination.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy made no bones about this when Nelson urged the appointment of Doyle.

"He is outstanding in ability and character," pointed out the former governor. "His selection would be widely popular, and would greatly redound to the President's credit in next year's (1964) race."

"But why should we appoint him?" retorted "Bobby," only 4,000, while Rep. Kasten-Doyle fought us in the 1960 primary, and again at the Los Angeles convention. He was 100 percent for Stevenson, and stayed with him to the bitter end. He made it very evident he is no friend of ours."

"It has been my understanding," replied Nelson icily, "that in naming men to the federal bench, they should be the best qualified. Doyle is unquestionably that in every respect: personally, professionally, and politically, if you insist on raising that question. Even if this appointment is to be made on a political basis, he is still your best man."

"How do you figure that?" "The President could lose Dane County (Doyle's home) next year," said Nelson. "In 1960 he carried the county by 15,000. Doyle is highly respected throughout the county, and his support would be a big help to the President—as well as putting at distinguished attorney on the federal bench."

Nelson's appeal got nowhere. On "Bobby's" recommendation, Rabinovitz was named to the bench.

But although he got the appointment, the Senate Judiciary Committee balked at approving him. Despite strenuous efforts by "Bobby," backed by the White House, the committee shelved the nomination. It did that by letting it die on the vine; that is, doing nothing about it.

As a consequence, when Congress adjourned, the appointment automatically expired.

Renamed Rabinovitz At "Bobby's" request, John-son, by then President, renamed Nelson and Proxmire, Doyle Rabinovitz. Again vigorous efforts were made to wangle committee approval. Rabinovitz even came to Washington to seek backing.

But after extended hearings and lengthy deliberations, the

Miron Wins GOP Nomination For Assembly on Coin Flip

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — In one of the few lotteries sanctioned by state law, Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette Monday afternoon flipped a coin that made Dist. Atty. Daniel Miron of Marinette the Republican nominee for state assemblyman for Marinette and Florence counties in a special election that will be held Nov. 16.

The coin flipping ceremony was held by the state board of canvassers after Miron and Robert Angwall agreed that it would be a fair and quick method of determining the winner of the recent Republican

Clintonville Utility, CD Chief Quits

CLINTONVILLE — E. V. Vinquist has resigned as superintendent of the city water and light utility effective Dec. 1. He has accepted a position as superintendent for the Donovan Construction Co., St. Paul, Minn.

Vinquist came to Clintonville from St. Peter, Minn. He had been superintendent since July 1, 1958.

He submitted his resignation in a letter to the water commission.

In a letter to Mayor Frank Sinkewicz, Vinquist also resigned as Civil Defense director, effective Monday.

White Man Runs Into Burning Building to Save Negro in Georgia

RUTLEDGE, Ga. (AP) — Frank McRee, a white furniture salesman, plunged into a blazing house Tuesday to rescue a Negro child.

McRee was talking with Lamar Thomas, a Negro tenant farmer, in a field about 100 yards away from Thomas' small house when they saw that it was ablaze.

McRee raced to the house, kicked in a window and dived inside. He grabbed Thomas' 10-month-old son and tossed him out the window to the farmer. Blinded by smoke and flames, the salesman reached for past president of the Methodist Church. The Rev. Marvin Schilder was unable to find her. She died in the blaze.

When the roof began to cave in, McRee fled — with torn Green Bay, and Ray Gile, clothes, a cut hand and minor burns on his face.

primary election in which they got tie votes.

Under the agreement, Angwall delegated his wife to represent him because he was absent on a business trip. Mrs. Angwell "called" the flip, "called" incorrectly, and Miron was declared the winner by LaFollette and Mrs. Dena Smith, the state treasurer, who is also a member of the state election certification board.

Faces Democrat
Miron will contest Leslie Stevenson of Marinette, the Democratic nominee, for the seat recently vacated when Assemblyman Robert Haase resigned to become state insurance commissioner.

LaFollette, who is charged by law with enforcing the state's strict code against gambling and lotteries, explained that the lottery method of resolving tie votes in elections is one of the few permitted.

LaFollette, a Democrat, used a quarter of 1963 vintage. Later he observed that he probably should have used a Kennedy half dollar.

Russell Luckow Named District Methodist Leader

Russell Luckow, 515 E. Roosevelt St., of the First Methodist Church, has been installed as an associate district lay leader of the Fond du Lac District, East Wisconsin Conference of the Methodist Church. He will keep the Neenah, Kaukauna, Appleton First, Appleton St. James and Medina Methodist churches informed of district and conference lay activities programs.

Luckow The lay activities program of The Methodist Church has responsibility in the main areas of stewardship, lay leadership development and communication. and men's work. Luckow will work with nine other associate district lay leaders of the Fond du Lac District, under the leadership of the district lay leader, Gordon Johnson, Sheboygan, in forming a working program to aid all the 60 churches in the district.

Luckow is the agricultural agent for Outagamie County and is a charter member and past president of the Methodist Church. The Rev. Marvin Schilder and associate conference lay leaders, Kelly Churchill, in, McRee fled — with torn Green Bay, and Ray Gile, clothes, a cut hand and minor Appleton, took part in the installation service.
